The University of Pacific, McGeorge School of Law has grown into an internationally recognized leader in the field of legal education since its establishment nearly 90 years ago. Its location in the capital city of California, Sacramento, has shaped the school's focus on public law, international law, and advocacy.

In The Beginning

McGeorge School of Law began as a one-room night school in downtown Sacramento (L & 10th) in 1924, when it was founded as the Sacramento College of Law. Verne Adrian McGeorge was the founding dean and professor of law. The first commencement was in 1925 marked the graduation of five new attorneys. The first female graduate of the school was Rose Sheehan in 1927, marking the college as ahead of its time in diversity and inclusion. In 1929, the Board of Trustees renamed the school McGeorge College of Law in honor of its founder.

Succeeding McGeorge, Russell Harris was dean from 1930-1933. Gilford Rowland was dean from 1933-1937. Lawrence Dorety was dean from 1937 until the school closed during WWII. The school reopened in 1946 under Dean John Swan. Dean Swan began to pursue a permanent home for McGeorge College of Law after several moves in downtown Sacramento.

Legacy of Leadership

In 1957, the influential Gordon D. Schaber became dean of McGeorge College of Law after Dean Swan's sudden death. Soon after, the Board of Trustees voted to move the school to a vacant well-baby clinic at the corner of 33rd Street and Fifth Avenue in the Oak Park neighborhood. Today, the McGeorge School of Law campus has grown to 13 acres. The law-school only campus continues to be located in Oak Park, three miles southeast of the state Capitol building in Sacramento, California.

Dean Schaber guided the school through its emergence as a first-class law school for 34 years. In 1964, Schaber won accreditation by the Committee of Bar Examiners for the state of California. He recruited top-notch faculty, such as Supreme Court Justice Anthony M. Kennedy, who taught constitutional law on the Sacramento campus from 1965-1988.

Emergence of McGeorge as a National Law School

McGeorge School of Law was accredited by the American Bar Association in 1968, paving the way for its rise to national prominence. In 1983, McGeorge School of Law became a member school in the Order of the Coif, the ABA’s highest acknowledgement of academic excellence that 81 of 199 of its member schools have established.

In 1972, the Pacific McGeorge Institute for Administrative Justice was created to meet a critical need for the California Department of Social Welfare. The institute, unique for a law school campus, has built a national reputation as a leading consultant on administrative hearing practices over the past 40 years. The IAJ contracts with state and federal agencies to design hearing procedures and management systems. It also trains administrative hearing officers, investigators and other personnel. One of its long-time major clients is the Social Security Administration, which annually sends hearing officers from all over the country to the McGeorge School of Law campus for 10-day training programs.

In 1984, the Victims of Crime Center was established on the McGeorge School of Law campus. This center provides a statewide, free service to crime victims. McGeorge School of Law students, under attorney supervision, provide information and referral to victims, their families, victim service providers, and victim advocates through the 1-800-VICTIMS toll-free number.

The ABA bestowed on Schaber its highest honor for service in legal education (The Kutak Award) in 1991, the year he stepped down as dean. Dean Gerald Caplan succeeded Schaber in 1991. During Caplan’s tenure, the Governmental Affairs program was established to capitalize on the school’s location in Sacramento. He expanded McGeorge’s presence in intercollegiate Mock Trial competitions around the nation. In 2002, Dean Elizabeth Rindskopf Parker became the eighth dean of McGeorge School of Law. Parker championed the expansion of student study and faculty exchanges in Europe, Latin America, Africa, and Asia. Parker expanded externships and started new clinical programming in specialty areas such as immigration, mediation, and appellate advocacy. She launched strong collaborations with high schools to establish mentoring programs and law-themed curricula.

McGeorge School of Law Today

Francis J. Mootz III, formerly of UNLV’s William Boyd School of Law, became the ninth dean of McGeorge School of Law, in 2012. The McGeorge School of Law faculty includes full-time and part-time professors who hold law degrees from schools such as Harvard, University of Chicago, Stanford, Columbia, University of Pennsylvania, Northwestern University, McGeorge School of Law, and Georgetown.

The McGeorge School of Law Legal Studies Center was opened in 2011 and houses the Gordon D. Schaber Law Library. The state-of-the-art library serves the Sacramento legal community of students, law clerks and members of the Sacramento County bench and bar.

In October 2011, PreLaw Magazine ranked McGeorge School of Law among its top twenty public interest law schools. The school was ranked by U.S. News & World Report in 2013 as as a top international law school (#19 in the nation), and as the 26th best part-time program in the nation. McGeorge School of Law was also recognized by U.S. News for the diversity of its student population.

McGeorge School of Law has more than 13,000 alumni who work all over the world. The school has many alumni who have served or are serving as judges, justices, commissioners, referees and administrative law judges throughout the country. Two of the school’s alumni are judges of the U.S. Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals, the second-highest court in the nation, and two are state Supreme Court justices in Nebraska and Nevada.

Affiliation with University of the Pacific

McGeorge merged with University of the Pacific as their school of law in 1966 and began offering day classes the following year. The original evening program for California leaders continues today, and is consistently recognized as one of the best part-time law programs in the nation.

Areas of Academic Distinction

McGeorge School of Law is world-renowned as a leader in the study of international law. Its master program in Transnational Business Practice counts 500 alumni around the globe. The school also offers annual summer programs for J.D. students in Salzburg, Austria, and Antiqua, Guatemala, which attracts law students from around the world.
McGeorge's location in Sacramento, California's capital city, is a benefit to students who want to study public law and governmental decision-making. The McGeorge Capital Center prepares students for careers in leadership and service through extensive externship and co-curricular opportunities.

McGeorge has a rigorous core curriculum and also offers students outstanding moot court, trial advocacy and clinical service programs. The school's legal clinics offer legal representation in several specialty areas to indigent populations through the Sacramento area. Students and supervising attorneys handle hundreds of civil cases a year through all phases, including trial and appeal.

Mission Statement

(As approved by Faculty on October 27, 2016)

The mission of the McGeorge School of Law, University of the Pacific, is to:

Provide a student-centered education that prepares its graduates for productive, successful, and ethical careers in law and other professions that serve society, and for leadership in building a diverse society committed to global social justice; and Contribute to the improvement of law and policy through engaged scholarship and other forms of public service.

Catalog Publication

As you review our catalog, we hope it will become a useful guide that will help you throughout your academic journey at McGeorge School of Law.

The catalog includes information about courses, campus resources and student services, program descriptions, program requirements and information about policies and procedures. It provides you with the information you will need to be a successful student.

Because the catalog is compiled well in advance of the academic year it covers, changes in programs, policies, and the academic calendar may well occur.

All catalog information is subject to change without notice or obligation.
The University of the Pacific was established in 1851 as the first chartered private institution of higher learning in California. Its main campus is in Stockton, with two additional campuses in San Francisco and Sacramento. The University has long been recognized as an innovator in private education. Today it offers undergraduate, graduate, and professional education through eleven schools on three campuses.

Located on the Stockton campus are the College of the Pacific for undergraduate liberal arts education, the Graduate School, the University College for adult re-entry students, the Conservatory of Music, and the Schools of Pharmacy, Engineering, Business and Public Administration, Education, and International Studies. The Dugoni School of Dentistry is located in San Francisco. McGeorge School of Law was an independent law school in Sacramento founded in 1924 until it merged with the University of the Pacific in 1966. It has retained the name of its founder, Verne Adrian McGeorge. The Sacramento campus is also home to the following programs: Master of Business Administration, Physician Assistant, Doctor of Education, Masters of Science in Law, Master of Public Administration, Master of Public Policy, Master of Science in Analytics and the Bachelor of Science in Organizational Behavior completion program.

The University of the Pacific is accredited by the Accrediting Commission for Senior Colleges and Universities of the Western Association of Schools and Colleges, and its professional schools and programs are also separately accredited by their respective accrediting agencies.

About McGeorge School of Law

The goal of McGeorge School of Law is to educate future members of the legal profession for responsible service in the many roles that lawyers perform. Students acquire legal knowledge and analytic skills through traditional classroom courses as well as through extensive clinical and experiential programs. The faculty’s teaching commitment assures each student the opportunity to prepare to practice law in any jurisdiction worldwide.

Located in Sacramento, McGeorge School of Law shares nearly 13 acres, devoted exclusively to a degree completion program and graduate studies. The California State Capitol and other city, state, and federal government offices are within 10 minutes of the school and provide many opportunities to learn from supervised externship placements in federal, state and local governmental agencies.

Accreditation and Memberships

McGeorge School of Law is fully accredited by the Council of the Section of Legal Education and Admission to the Bar of the American Bar Association, and by the Committee of Bar Examiners of the State Bar of California. It is a member of the Association of American Law Schools. The school is approved for participation in veterans’ educational benefits programs.

The law school has been awarded a chapter of The Order of the Coif, a national law school honorary society founded for the purposes of encouraging legal scholarship and advancing the ethical standards of the legal profession.

Full-Time and Part-Time Divisions

McGeorge School of Law offers programs leading to the Juris Doctor (J.D.) degree through a Full-Time Division and a Part-Time Division. The two divisions have the same curriculum, faculty, and methods of instruction; maintain the same scholastic standards and degree requirements; and adhere to the same objectives.

The law school operates on the semester system; two semesters of 14 weeks each plus examination periods. All year-long courses begin in the Fall Semester, which starts in mid-August. The Spring Semester begins in January. Summer Sessions are also offered beginning in May.

The course of study in the Full-Time Division leading to the J.D. degree requires three academic years (six semesters) of full-time study. A Full-Time Division student must enroll and earn credit for a minimum of 12 units each semester; the usual course load is 14 to 16 units per semester. Full-time students are expected to devote substantially all their working time to the study of law and are required to limit outside paid employment to not more than 20 hours per week during the academic year.

The Part-Time Division program offers a reduced course load which generally requires four academic years (eight semesters) plus two summers of part-time study to meet J.D. degree requirements. Course loads usually range from 8 to 10 units each semester, with a minimum of 8 units required per semester. Most Part-Time Division students enroll in Summer Session courses to reach the required 88 units, but may, schedule permitting, take those units during the academic year instead. An accelerated Evening Division program enables a student to meet degree requirements in three and one-half years (seven academic semesters and Summer Sessions).

First-year required courses and second-year part-time required courses must be taken with the division in which a student is enrolled, unless an exception is approved by the Assistant Dean for Student Affairs. Electives and upper-division required courses may be taken after the first year during day or evening hours, as individual schedules permit. Students who wish to change their programs of study from one division to another should schedule an appointment with an academic counselor regarding approval and course of study. Appointments can be made by calling 916.739.7089.
ADMISSIONS

J.D. Students

Deadlines & Requirements
The admissions committee admits applicants on a rolling basis; therefore, we encourage all applicants to submit their application early.

Apply
• Admissions (http://mcgeorge.edu/Students/Services/Admissions_Office.htm)
• Check Your Application Status (https://aces2.pacific.edu/YourStatus/membership/AppStatIdMe.aspx?guid=%2B1Qo68Q2oWs%3D)

You will need the following to complete your application:
1. A completed application form
2. Nonrefundable $65 application fee
3. Personal statement
4. Résumé
5. Two (2) letters of recommendation submitted through your LSAC CAS account. (Up to three letters will be allowed)
6. Bachelor's degree
7. CAS Report
8. Email address (this is the primary form of communication from the law school)

Application
Click here (https://os.lsac.org/release/startup.aspx?appl=4065A1) to begin your application. Please note that McGeorge does not accept hardcopy applications. All applications must be completed through the Law School Admission Council (LSAC). The application must be complete when submitted.

Application Fee
A nonrefundable application fee of $65 must be submitted with the application. If financial need warrants, an applicant may apply for a fee waiver (http://mcgeorge.edu/Application_Fee_Waiver_Request.htm).

Fee waivers are granted based on a demonstrated need. Please explain your need and provide supporting documents in either Word of PDF form. Supporting documents should include a tax return or award letter and a monthly budget. If you have already been granted an LSAC fee waiver, our application fee will automatically be waived as well.

Personal Statement
The statement must be no more than three pages, double-spaced, 12 pt. font. An applicant’s personal statement is an opportunity to provide information that the applicant believes should be considered. Please choose one of the following two prompts, and mention the prompt at the top of the statement:
• Why are you interested in attending McGeorge School of Law?
• Tell us about a person or event that impacted/influenced your life.

If an applicant wishes to address their grades, academic disqualifications, etc. they may do so by addressing these circumstances in a separate addendum.

Résumé
Provide a Résumé of full-time employment and other activities, starting with the most recent. Include dates, name(s) of employer(s), and position(s) held. List the hours worked per week and academic honors received since entering college. List extracurricular activities, hobbies and community service. Describe nature and extent of employment during college and include volunteer work. Please include summers. Explain any periods of time after high school not accounted for by the preceding educational and employment history. However, all other high school information should be omitted.

Letters of Recommendation
In support of the application, applicants must submit two letters of recommendation directly to LSAC, and will accept a maximum of three letters. Applicants are strongly encouraged to reach out to their college professors and administrators who have had the opportunity to assess their academic, time management, research and analysis skills to write on their behalf.

Applicants who have been out of school for a considerable amount of time can submit letters of recommendation from employers, business colleagues, and mentors. Letters from family members and close personal friends are discouraged. These letters should address skills relevant to your potential success in law school.

Please note that LSAC will not release an applicant’s CAS report to McGeorge until they have received a minimum of two letters of recommendation. Furthermore, the application will remain incomplete and will not be reviewed until the applicant’s file is complete.

Credential Assembly Services (CAS) and LSAT
Applicants must register with LSAC for the Law School Admission Test (LSAT) and LSAC’s Credential Assembly Services (CAS). Transcripts of prior college and university coursework must be furnished directly to LSAC. LSAT scores must be from administrations within five years prior to the year of enrollment. An application file is not complete and will not be reviewed until an applicant’s law school report, including an LSAT score, has been received. Please note that we will not accept the June 2015 LSAT for enrollment in the Fall 2015 class. If an applicant has multiple LSAT scores with a five (5) point difference or greater, an LSAT disparity addendum is required. (Applicants whose undergraduate degrees are not from educational institutions within the United States, its territories or Canada must use LSAC’s Credential Assembly Service for international document authentication and evaluation.)

APPLICATIONS WILL NOT BE CONSIDERED FOR FINAL ACTION UNTIL ALL REQUIRED INFORMATION HAS BEEN RECEIVED.

McGeorge School of Law maintains a long-standing policy of not discriminating in any of its activities on the basis of race, gender, sexual orientation, national or ethnic origin, disability, marital status, age, color or religious belief.
Transcripts
All transcripts for college and graduate work must be submitted directly to LSAC. LSAC will evaluate each transcript and forward a report to each law school the applicant designates.

If an applicant matriculated at another law school, a letter of good standing from that school is required. Additionally, if an applicant sat for an examination at that school, a transcript from that law school must also be submitted directly to LSAC.

Character and Fitness
Most states have standards of character and fitness to practice that must be satisfied by candidates applying for admission to the bar. Candidates with a record of involvement in criminal matters must provide a full, descriptive statement and should investigate the admission policies of the jurisdiction where application for admission to practice is anticipated by writing to the bar examiners in that state. Include dates of incident and disposition.

Additional Application Requirements for Foreign Applicants
Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL)
An applicant who did not complete his or her bachelor's degree from an English-language college or university, and for whom English is not his or her primary language is required to take the TOEFL. This requirement also applies to recent immigrants who have completed their education outside of the United States where English was not the language of instruction.

A minimum score of 600 for the paper-based test, 250 for the computer-based test, or 100 for the internet-based exam is required. Please note that acceptable scores must come directly from TOEFL and be submitted to LSAC. For additional information on TOEFL, visit http://www.ets.org/toefl.

Transcripts (International)
McGeorge requires that foreign transcripts be submitted directly to LSAC Credential Service which is included in the CAS subscription fee. A foreign credential evaluation will be finalized by the American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers (AACRAO) and will be integrated into your CAS report.

Student Visa
Once an international applicant is admitted to the law school and has paid their first seat deposit, the Director of Admissions will contact the student to obtain an I-20 application form, certification of finance, a notarized copy of their birth certificate, passport, and when applicable, marriage license. Once all of these items are received, the Director of Admissions will process the student’s SEVIS I-20. An I-20 form is one part of the requirement for an applicant to obtain a student visa (http://mcgeorge.edu/Future_Students/LLM_and_JSD_Programs/International_Students/Visa_Information.htm).

Next Steps ...
Once an applicant submits their application, they can check the status online through the Application Status Online. Login information for the Applicant Status Online is emailed to applicants when the application is submitted to the law school. The admissions committee will review files in the order that they were completed. Our admissions committee is devoted to reviewing each file in a holistic manner. Please allow four-to-six weeks to receive an admission decision. Offers of admission will be sent via U.S. mail. Other admission decisions will be sent via email. Changes to an applicant's email or mailing address should be communicated to the Office of Admissions immediately.

LL.M. Program Application Requirements

Please, email (graduatelaw@pacific.edu) us or visit our Frequently Asked Questions page (http://mcgeorge.edu/Future_Students/LLM_and_JSD_Programs/LLM_and_JSD_FAQ.htm).
Master of Science in Law

McGeorge offers the Master of Science in Law (MSL) to professionals who seek the benefits of advanced training in legal reasoning and analysis but who do not require the JD degree for their career plans. In today’s economy with so many highly regulated industries, state and federal agencies, and other professional fields impacted by law, professionals deal with law-related issues every day. Our MSL program is designed to help professionals gain and apply the legal skills they need.

Optional areas of focus include:

- Capital Lawyering (http://mcgeorge.edu/Future_Students/Master_of_Science_in_Law/Legal_Concentration_in_Government_and_Public_Policy.htm)
- Health Care (http://mcgeorge.edu/Future_Students/Master_of_Science_in_Law/Legal_Concentration_in_Health.htm)
- Human Resources (http://mcgeorge.edu/Future_Students/Master_of_Science_in_Law/Legal_Concentration_in_Human_Resources.htm)
- Water & the Environment (http://mcgeorge.edu/Future_Students/Master_of_Science_in_Law/Legal_Concentration_in_Water_and_the_Environment.htm)

McGeorge faculty will work with each student to develop a customized curriculum (http://mcgeorge.edu/Future_Students/Master_of_Science_in_Law/MSL_Curriculum.htm) with a rigorous legal grounding that is infused with real-world examples, skills-based learning, and experiential opportunities. Students will also experience intense interaction and collaboration with a cohort of like-minded professionals who are seeking to increase their own skills. Finally, opportunities will be created for each student to put their new skills to work in California’s capital city (http://mcgeorge.edu/Future_Students/Life_at_McGeorge/Sacramento_The_Capital_City.htm).

We are accepting applications now for Fall 2016.

Student Testimonials

"As an HR professional I've found the MSL program to be immediately relevant in my day-to-day business interactions. Obtaining my MSL has provided my organization with a leading edge in the effective management of employee relations matters." —Liz Lugo, MSL student and HR Manager, Airgas USA, LLC.

"I had considered going to law school, however there were parts of law school that I wouldn’t utilize in my career as a lobbyist. The innovative MSL degree provides the legal reasoning and legal analysis that I need for my professional advancement." — Erin Norwood, MSL student and Senior VP Government Affairs, Norwood & Associates

"The legal reasoning skills I have learned have given me confidence and have benefited my clients. I have taken on more responsibilities because my supervisor has recognized the additional skills in legal analysis that I have acquired in the MSL program." — John Wenger, MSL student and Legislative Aide, Sloat Higgins Jensen and Associates

Summer Session Students
On-Campus & Foreign Summer Programs
Summer sessions are available to part-time and full-time students. Although summers cannot take the place of a full-time semester, taking some coursework in the summer can lighten your load during the regular year. Completing the units required for graduation results in taking between 14 and 15 units each semester. As few as 12 units can be taken while still qualifying as a full-time student, so some full-time students pursuing extra-curricular activities or wishing to give advanced material particular focus use summers to enable taking 12 or 13 units during a term.

On-Campus
Two Summer Sessions are scheduled including on-campus required courses, electives and international electives. Summer courses are compressed but consist of the same number of class hours as similar courses offered during the academic year. Summer Session on-campus classes are normally scheduled in evening hours. Students who have completed at least one year of law study in good standing at other ABA accredited law schools may enroll in either the On-Campus or International Sessions.

International Sessions
Learn more about our Summer Abroad Programs and apply online:

- Inter-American Summer Program in Guatemala (http://mcgeorge.edu/Students/Academics/International_Study/Summer_Abroad_Programs/Summer_Program_in_Guatemala.htm)
- Summer Program in Salzburg, Austria (http://mcgeorge.edu/Students/Academics/International_Study/Summer_Abroad_Programs/Summer_Program_in_Salzburg.htm)

Transfer Students
Applicants may be accepted with advanced standing to McGeorge School of Law after having completed one or more years at another ABA accredited law school and may only apply for admission to begin their law study at McGeorge School of Law commencing in the fall or spring term.

McGeorge's policy allows applicants to transfer up to 32 credits in courses with satisfactory grades of C+ or better. Each applicant's prior law transcript will be evaluated and compared to McGeorge School of Law coursework. Any courses which are not commensurate to McGeorge School of Law courses will be required to be retaken upon enrollment.

Application Requirements for Transfer Applicants
1. Completed application form
2. Nonrefundable $65 application fee
3. Personal statement expressing reasons for requesting transfer
4. Résumé
5. Two (2) recommendation letters submitted through your LSAC CAS account (at least one must be from a current law school professor)
6. Transcript from first year of law school enrollment, if applicable
7. Letter of Good Standing from current law school, containing class rank (If the law school does not rank the class, a letter from the law
Application
Click here (https://os.lsac.org/release/startup.aspx?appl=4065A2) to begin your application. Please note that McGeorge School of Law does not accept hardcopy applications. All applications must be completed through the Law School Admission Council (LSAC). The deadline to submit transfer applications is July 15 for the following fall term and Nov. 15 for the spring term.

Application Fee
A nonrefundable application fee of $65 must be submitted with the application. If financial need warrants, an applicant may apply for a fee waiver (http://mcgeorge.edu/Application_Fee_Waiver_Request.htm).

Certification of Good Standing
A certification letter of good standing from your current law school is required. This document contains your academic results for the year currently being completed and includes certification of your class standing. Please have this document sent directly to the McGeorge School of Law Admissions Office.

Credential Assembly Services (CAS)
All transfer applicants must pay for a Credential Assembly Services (CAS) report to be submitted to the law school along with their LSAT score.

Letters of Recommendation
In support of the application, applicants must submit two letters of recommendation directly to LSAC, and we will accept a maximum of three letters. At least one letter must be from a current law school professor. These letters should address skills relevant to your potential success in law school.

Please note that LSAC will not release an applicant’s CAS report to McGeorge School of Law until they have received a minimum of two letters of recommendation. Furthermore, the application will remain incomplete and will not be reviewed until the applicant’s file is complete.

Personal Statement
The statement must be no more than three pages, double-spaced, 12 pt. font. A transfer applicant’s personal statement is an opportunity to provide information about their reasons for requesting transfer and any other information that the applicant believes should be considered.

Résumé
Provide a Résumé of full- and part-time employment and other activities, starting with the most recent. Include dates, name(s) of employer(s), and position(s) held. List academic honors received since entering college. List extracurricular activities, hobbies and community service. Please be sure to include any law related internships and externships completed since entering law school. Describe nature and extent of employment during college, listing the hours worked per week and include volunteer work. Include summers. Explain any periods of time after high school not accounted for by the preceding educational and employment history. However, high school information should be omitted.

Transcripts
All transcripts for college and graduate work must be submitted directly to LSAC. The transcript from your degree granting institution(s) must show conferral of your degree. LSAC will evaluate each transcript and forward a report to each law school the applicant designates.

Transcripts from the current law school are required and should be mailed directly to the McGeorge School of Law Admissions Office. The transcripts must contain grades for your first year of law school and will be reviewed carefully along with the syllabi for the courses the student has taken.

Notification of Acceptance
Because application decisions are based on a transcript and certification of good standing containing information about the academic year just completed, McGeorge School of Law usually notifies transfer students of their acceptance in mid-July for the fall and early December for the spring term.

An offer of admission to a transfer student comes with a detailed letter stating which coursework will be accepted either as credit or as credit along with the fulfillment of a course requirement. The letter also urges students to contact the Office of Student Affairs for academic advising for second year and beyond. The Office of Student Affairs hosts a welcome for transfer students at the beginning of each academic year. At that event, students are made aware of the various services provided by each department on campus. Transfer students are also included in the MAP Program (http://mcgeorge.edu/Students/Academics/McGeorge_Academic_Planning_(MAP).htm), the academic advising program for first year students which takes place during the first half of the Spring Semester.

Visiting Students
Students enrolled at another law school accredited by the American Bar Association who desire to take one semester or one academic year of course work at McGeorge School of Law to be applied toward degree requirements at their home law school will be considered for visiting status. Students may submit applications for the spring or fall semester. Visitors are not eligible to receive their J.D. degree from McGeorge School of Law.

To apply for admission as a visiting student, applicants must submit the following:
1. Completed application form
2. Nonrefundable $65 application fee
3. Personal statement expressing reasons for requesting to visit
4. One recommendation letter must be submitted from a professor at the home law school
5. Résumé
6. A letter or form from the Law School Registrar or other appropriate Law School Administrator outlining which courses the student will be allowed to take at McGeorge School of Law
7. Transcript from current law school
8. Front page of Credential Assembly Service CAS report sent from home law school.
Application
Click here (https://os.lsac.org/release/startup.aspx?appl=4065A3) to begin your application. Please note that McGeorge School of Law does not accept hardcopy applications. All applications must be completed through the Law School Admission Council (LSAC.) The deadline to submit visiting applications is July 15 for the fall term and Nov. 15 for the spring term.

Application Fee
A nonrefundable application fee of $65 must be submitted with the application.

Law School Transcript
This document must contain grades for at least one full academic year and should be submitted directly to the McGeorge School of Law Admissions Office.

Personal Statement
The statement must be no more than three pages, double-spaced, 12 pt. font. A visitor applicant’s personal statement is an opportunity to provide information about their reasons for requesting to visit and any other information that the applicant believes should be considered.

Résumé
Provide a résumé of full- and part-time employment and other activities, starting with the most recent. Include dates, name(s) of employer(s), and position(s) held. List academic honors received since entering college. List extracurricular activities, hobbies and community service. Please be sure to include any law related internships and externships completed since entering law school. Describe the nature and extent of employment during college, listing the hours worked per week and include volunteer work. Include summers. Explain any periods of time after high school not accounted for by the preceding educational and employment history. However, high school information should be omitted.

Letter of Recommendation
In support of the application, applicants must submit one letter of recommendation directly to LSAC. The letter must be from a current law school professor and should address your success in law school, your aptitude as a student and the impact you have had at your law school.

Permission to Visit
Visiting students must submit a letter or form from their Law School Registrar or other appropriate Law School Administrator outlining which courses the student will be allowed to take at McGeorge School of Law.

The letter must be submitted to the Admissions Office and the visiting student will not be allowed to register for classes until this form has been obtained.

Character and Fitness
Most states have standards of character and fitness to practice that must be satisfied by candidates applying for admission to the bar. Candidates with a record of involvement in criminal matters must provide a full, descriptive statement and should investigate the admission policies of the jurisdiction where application for admission to practice is anticipated by writing to the bar examiners in that state. Include dates of incident and disposition.

Notification of Acceptance
Visiting students will receive their decisions soon after their files are complete.
The curriculum at McGeorge is designed to develop highly skilled professionals who are prepared for the rapidly changing legal market. McGeorge's accomplished faculty challenges students. A legal education at McGeorge will push you academically within a supportive, empathetic environment where faculty and staff are invested in your personal success.

Day and Evening Divisions

McGeorge School of Law offers programs leading to the Juris Doctor (J.D.) degree through a Day Division and an Evening Division. The two divisions have the same curriculum, faculty, and methods of instruction; maintain the same scholastic standards and degree requirements; and adhere to the same objectives.

The law school operates on the semester system; two semesters of 14 weeks each plus examination periods. All year-long courses begin in the Fall Semester, which starts in mid-August. The Spring Semester begins in January. Summer Sessions are also offered beginning in May.

The course of study in the Day Division leading to the J.D. degree requires three academic years (six semesters) of full-time study. A Day division student must enroll and earn credit for a minimum of 12 units each semester; the usual course load is 14 to 16 units per semester. Day division students are expected to devote substantially all their working time to the study of law and are required to limit outside employment to not more than 20 hours per week during the academic year.

The Evening Division program offers a reduced course load which generally requires four academic years (eight semesters) plus two summers of part-time study to meet J.D. degree requirements. Course loads usually range from 8 to 10 units each semester, with a minimum of 8 units required per semester. Most Evening division students enroll in Summer Session courses to reach the required 88 units, but may, schedule permitting, take those units during the academic year instead. An accelerated Evening Division program enables a student to meet degree requirements in three and one-half years (seven academic semesters and Summer Sessions).

First-year required courses and second-year part-time required courses must be taken with the division in which a student is enrolled, unless an exception is approved by the Assistant Dean for Student Affairs. Electives and upper-division required courses may be taken after the first year during day or evening hours, as individual schedules permit. Students who wish to change their programs of study from one division to another should schedule an appointment with an academic counselor regarding approval and course of study. Appointments can be made by calling 916.739.7089.

DAY DIVISION

The focus of the first year is on building a solid foundation in the theory of law and mastering legal research and writing. All first-year students have a small-group classroom experience in Global Lawyering Skills I (http://www.mcgeorge.edu/Students/Academics/Courses/Course_Descriptions.htm?122), which provides the opportunity to work intensively with a professor on analytical and advocacy skills. First-year students also take a spring Legal Profession (http://www.mcgeorge.edu/Students/Academics/Courses/Course_Descriptions.htm?104) class where they begin to shape their professional identity and bring their professional goals into focus. In the fall semester, a skills covers topics such as case briefing, note taking, outlining, and writing law school exams. This Analytical Skills Course is fully integrated with a substantive course, such as Torts (http://www.mcgeorge.edu/Students/Academics/Courses/Course_Descriptions.htm?131) or Contracts (http://www.mcgeorge.edu/Students/Academics/Courses/Course_Descriptions.htm?110). Those students whose fall exam scores suggest that they would benefit from additional academic support are enrolled in Principles of Legal Analysis I (http://www.mcgeorge.edu/Students/Academics/Courses/Course_Descriptions.htm?207) in the spring semester.

Experiential Curriculum — Hands-on Legal Experience

McGeorge School of Law promotes real-world practical experience for our students by assisting them to think outside the box; encouraging a broad visioning of options, potential and goals. Approved General Externship and Judicial Externship opportunities allow students to earn academic credit, develop skills and legal knowledge, experience daily legal practice, and build resume and networking opportunities. Visit our Director of Externships for approved Externship Sites at: local, state, and federal courts, government agencies, nonprofit entities, and limited for-profit firms.

There is no substitute for the real-world knowledge gained through experiential learning. As part of our commitment to teaching practical lawyering skills, all McGeorge students complete a Legal Clinic (http://www.mcgeorge.edu/Students/Academics/Experiential_Learning/Legal_Clinics.htm) or Externship, and simulation and practicum courses where the focus is on learning by doing. Students learn to apply legal theory to practice, develop professional lawyering skills, and become a reflective practitioners and lifelong learners.

Directed Study

McGeorge is committed to the success of each student. The Directed Study Program is designed to bolster a student’s command of and confidence in core legal skills, with the goal of increasing success in law school and paving the way to passing the bar exam.

Students who are in the lower 50% of the Full-Time Division (after their first year) are part of the Directed Study Program and must also complete the following:

Dual Degree Programs

A degree from University of the Pacific, McGeorge School of Law is a gateway to a variety of legal career opportunities. Your first year of core substantive law courses, legal research and writing, and professionalism will provide the foundation for your legal studies. Our concentrations, programs, and clinics will give you the ability to explore and master different areas of law to prepare you for wherever your career path may lead.

Learn By Doing

Our strong experiential curriculum (http://www.mcgeorge.edu/Students/Academics/Requirements_and_Curriculum/Experiential_Curriculum.htm) sets us apart. From day one, students are deeply engaged in analyzing, reflecting, giving and receiving feedback, and learning through hands-on experience. Each student participates in an Externship or Legal Clinic (http://www.mcgeorge.edu/Students/Academics/Experiential_Learning/Legal_Clinics.htm), plus there are Mock Trial (http://www.mcgeorge.edu/Students/Academics/Experiential_Learning/Competition_Teams/Mock_Trial.htm) and Moot Court (http://www.mcgeorge.edu/Students/Academics/Experiential_Learning/Competition_Teams/Moot_Court.htm) and Alternative Dispute Resolution Competition Teams, a law journal (http://www.mcgeorge.edu/Publications.htm), and numerous simulation and practicum courses where students learn by doing.

Real-World Curriculum

In recent years we have developed a wide variety of real-world electives in which our students are immersed in lawyer-like settings with active hands-on methods of instruction to enable the integration of legal theory with professional lawyering skills. Students are involved in projects requiring them to engage in client problem-solving and exercise professional judgment (http://www.mcgeorge.edu/Students/Academics/Experiential_Learning.htm), as lawyers do in practice. Fact-gathering, client interviewing and counseling, negotiation, policy analysis, oral advocacy, and persuasive legal writing are some of the many skills students hone in these innovative practice-focused electives.

The Right Fit

Each student can customize the J.D. Degree to fit his or her needs. The choices include Concentrations in Business, Capital Lawyering, Environmental, Health, Intellectual Property, International Law, Tax, and Trial & Appellate Advocacy. M.P.P.A. Dual Degree Programs (http://www.mcgeorge.edu/Students/Academics/MD_Degree/Dual_Degree_Programs.htm), opportunities for International Study, the Fast Track Water Law J.D./LL.M. Program (http://www.mcgeorge.edu/Students/Academics/Areas_of_Specialty/Water_Resources_Law.htm), and our broad array of electives and experiential opportunities.

Whichever course of study students choose, our student-focused faculty will share their enthusiasm for the law through engaging classes, using the same lawyering skills that are deployed in practice. A campus environment of support and cooperation encourages collegiality, and graduates of our J.D. program are equipped to continue learning from experience as they build their legal career.

J.S.D. in International Water Resources Law

A J.S.D., or Doctor of Juridical Science is, in effect, legal education’s counterpart to the Ph.D. Those who have already earned an LL.M. and wish to do intensive, in-depth work in the law of international freshwater resources, normally over a period of several years, should apply for the J.S.D.

To qualify for the J.S.D. degree in International Water Resources Law, the student must:

- Earn a minimum of eight (8) semester hours of credit over a course of a two-semester residency
- A cumulative grade point average of not less than 3.0 (on a 4.3 point scale).
- Successfully defend their Dissertation.

The courses completed during the residency will be determined by the Dissertation Supervisor in consultation with the student.

Please, email (graduatelaw@pacific.edu) us or visit our Frequently Asked Questions page (http://mcgeorge.edu/Future_Students/LLM_and_JSD_Programs/LLM_and_JSD_FAQ.htm).

LL.M.

McGeorge offers graduate programs for both domestically trained attorneys and foreign trained attorneys. Whether you seek an advanced legal program focusing on U.S. Law, Public Policy (http://mcgeorge.edu/Future_Students/LLM_and_JSD_Programs/LLM_in_US_Law_and_Policy.htm), Transnational Business (http://mcgeorge.edu/Future_Students/LLM_and_JSD_Programs/LLM_in_Transnational_Business_Practice.htm) or Water Resources (http://mcgeorge.edu/Future_Students/LLM_and_JSD_Programs/LLM_in_Water_Resources_Law.htm), McGeorge is the right place for you.

U.S. News & World Report has ranked McGeorge’s International Law program among the top programs in the country for the fifth year in a row, this year as No. 25 in the 2017 Best Graduate Schools guide. McGeorge was included on the Honor Roll for Best LL.M. programs in the 2016 (http://mcgeorge.edu/News/McGeorge_LLM_Programs_on_International_Jurist_Honor_Roll_for_Top_Value_and_Best_Law_Schools). McGeorge is one of 14 schools recognized for the Law School Jurist magazine, as the only California school among the top 12 for Top Value, and as one of 14 schools recognized for the Law School Experience.

LL.M. in Transnational Business Practice

The LL.M. in Transnational Business Practice has two different tracks from which degree candidates can choose, both leading to the same degree.

- Track One, LL.M. in Transnational Business Practice — Two semesters (full-time) or three/ four semesters (part-time) of study on the McGeorge School of Law Campus.
- Track Two, LL.M. in Transnational Business Practice with Internship — One semester of study on the McGeorge School of Law Campus and the opportunity to participate in a 12-week internship with an international law firm or organization or corporate legal department.

LL.M. in U.S. Law & Policy

The LL.M. in U.S. Law & Policy has two different tracks from which degree candidates can choose, both leading to the same degree. A unique attribute of our program is that students have the ability to tailor their course package to meet their particular interests and career goals.

Both tracks involve one-year (two semesters) to two-year (three or four semesters) course of study.

- U.S. Law Track — Specially designed to equip foreign-trained lawyers with the skills and knowledge to succeed as a global lawyer. Students will gain a firm foundation in American law and valuable insights as to how lawyers are trained in the United States.
- Public Law & Policy Track — A post-J.D. course of study and experiential learning specially designed to equip lawyers with the skills and knowledge base to succeed working in government entities, private law firms, and nonprofit organizations.

LL.M. in Water Resources Law

The LL.M. in Water Resources law has three different tracks from which degree candidates can choose, both leading to the same degree.

Both tracks of the LL.M. in Water Resources Law involve one-year (two semesters) to two-year (three or four semesters) courses of study.

- U.S. Law Track — This track focuses on issues affecting the United States. It is designed for students with a law degree to gain expertise in this growing field of environmental and natural resources law.
- International Track — For law graduates interested in pursuing careers in government, non-governmental organizations or private law firms dealing with international water issues. This program focuses on the unique laws, policies and political dynamics applying to watercourses that are shared by two or more nations.
- Fast-Track — This track is for McGeorge School of Law graduates who have taken 12 units of water law courses during their J.D degree.

The Internship

Candidates are placed in a law firm for a minimum of 12 weeks in one of many countries located around the world. Interns are expected to be fully integrated into the daily work of the host firm. Among the tasks normally

1 With prior approval, candidates may also be permitted to enroll in other elective courses relevant to transnational business practice not listed above for the purposes of completing the 14 units in the fall semester. Note: Not all electives listed above are offered in every academic year.

2 With prior approval, may be taken in the Spring.

3 Limited to LL.M. candidates from civil law jurisdictions for Fall enrollment only.
assigned to interns are research, preparation and review of documents, client interviews, negotiations, and observing court appearances.

The internship must be completed in a country other than the candidate’s own country of law study. While geographic preferences are always considered, a specific location cannot be guaranteed. Placements in some countries require proficiency in the local language.

McGeorge relies on its strong international network of alumni and professional colleagues for internship placements. In recent years, LL.M. candidates have interned in Austria, mainland China, Denmark, France, Germany, Hong Kong, Italy, Luxembourg, The Netherlands, Spain, Taiwan, Thailand, Turkey, the United States, and Vietnam.

We work diligently with the student to find an appropriate placement and have an excellent record of finding placements for students, but securing a placement always depends upon an appropriate match between individual qualifications and the needs/offerings of host firms. The more flexibility a student has in terms of location and the stronger a student’s qualifications, the greater the chances are of obtaining a rewarding placement.

During the course of the internship, students are required to keep a journal and to communicate periodically reflecting upon their experience and observations with the faculty supervising this program.

The internship program closes with a three- to five-day post-internship Intercultural Legal Competence Workshop on the Sacramento campus of McGeorge in which students compare and evaluate legal cultures and systems in their host and home countries, addressing such questions as differences in legal practice, ethics, and approaches to transactions, negotiations, litigation and other dispute resolution. In rare cases with good cause shown and prior approval, in lieu of attending the post-placement workshop, students may prepare a paper reflecting on and analyzing these topics as illuminated during their internships and prior experience.

LL.M. in U.S. Law & Policy

McGeorge offers a unique program leading to a Master of Laws (LL.M.) degree in U.S. Law or in Public Law & Policy.

The track involves one-year (two semesters) to two-year (three or four semesters) courses of study.

- U.S. Law Track for Foreign-trained Applicants — A course of study specially designed to equip foreign-trained attorneys with the skills and knowledge to succeed as a global lawyer. Students will gain a firm foundation in American law and valuable insights as to how attorneys are trained in the United States.

U.S. Law Track

For Foreign-Trained Applicants

The U.S. Law track is specifically designed for lawyers or law graduates with a law degree granted from schools in their home country who seek a general introduction to the United States law. Students will study the foundation of American law, and graduates will be prepared to demonstrate knowledge of U.S. law to employees and clients.

Program Highlights

- Experience courses with J.D. students allowing direct observation of American lawyer training
- Receive assistance to tailor your course of study to qualify to take the Bar exam
- Obtain special assistance in adjusting to student life in the United States
- Study the foundation of American law to be prepared to demonstrate knowledge of U.S. law to employees and clients
- Have access to McGeorge’s broad base of alumni from all over the world

Program Requirements

Admitted students will undertake a individually tailored sequence of courses to fulfill the 24-unit program requirement.

- 24 units of study
- Cumulative grade point average of 2.33 on a 4.33 scale

Required Course

- LL.M. Legal Research, Writing and Analysis (I and II) (4 semester units)

LL.M. in Water Resources Law

To enhance the skills and understanding of lawyers at all levels, the McGeorge School of Law offers LL.M. and J.S.D. (http://mcgeorge.edu/Future_Students/LLM_and_JSD_Programs/ JSD_in_International_Water_Resources.htm) degrees in water resources law. These will prepare you to serve the diverse needs of businesses and developers, farmers and ranchers, non-profit organizations, and public agencies at every level from local to international.

The Water Resources Law graduate program emphasizes interdisciplinary natural resources classes; simulations and case studies; a robust field placement experience; and advanced substantive law course work. The combination of natural resources science, technology and economics, with strong legal coursework and hands-on training, makes this program unique among other natural resources law graduate degrees. There are two courses of study.

Both tracks of the LL.M. in Water Resources Law involve one-year (two semesters) to two-year (three or four semesters) courses of study.

- U.S. Law Track (http://mcgeorge.edu/Future_Students/LLM_and_JSD_Programs/LLM_in_Water_Resources_Law/ US_Law_Track.htm) — This track focuses on issues affecting the United States. It is designed for students with a law degree to gain expertise in this growing field of environmental and natural resources law.

- International Track (http://mcgeorge.edu/Future_Students/LLM_and_JSD_Programs/LLM_in_Water_Resources_Law/International_Track.htm) — For law graduates interested in pursuing careers in government, non-governmental organizations or private law firms dealing with international water issues. This program focuses on the unique laws, policies and political dynamics as it applies to water-courses that are shared by two or more nations.

- Fast Track (http://mcgeorge.edu/Students/Academics/ Areas_of_Specialty/Water_Resources_Law.htm) — This accelerated program is available to McGeorge J.D. students for both the U.S. Law Track and International Track of the Water Resources Law LL.M. degree.

McGeorge is dedicated to helping our students succeed in whichever program they choose. Please explore both tracks. An academic advisor is always available to help you with your decision.

Program Highlights

- Experience first-hand observation and participation in solving complex relevant real issues
- Enjoy small classes sizes
- Take advantage of our mentoring and career development resources
- Obtain special assistance with course selection and class success
- Receive help in adjusting to student life in the United States

M.S.L. - Master of Science in Law

McGeorge offers the Master of Science in Law (MSL) to professionals who seek the benefits of advanced training in legal reasoning and analysis but who do not require the JD degree for their career plans. In today's economy with so many highly regulated industries, state and federal agencies, and other professional fields impacted by law, professionals deal with law-related issues every day. Our MSL program is designed to help professionals gain and apply the legal skills they need.

Optional areas of focus include:

- Capital Lawyering (http://mcgeorge.edu/ Future_Students/Master_of_Science_in_Law/ Legal_Concentration_in_Government_and_Public_Policy.htm)
- Health Care (http://mcgeorge.edu/Future_Students/ Master_of_Science_in_Law/Legal_Concentration_in_Health.htm)
- Human Resources (http://mcgeorge.edu/Future_Students/Master_of_Science_in_Law/ Legal_Concentration_in_Human_Resources.htm)
- Water & the Environment (http://mcgeorge.edu/Future_Students/Master_of_Science_in_Law/ Legal_Concentration_in_Water_and_the_Environment.htm)

McGeorge faculty will work with each student to develop a customized curriculum (http://mcgeorge.edu/Future_Students/ Master_of_Science_in_Law/MSL_Curriculum.htm) with a rigorous legal grounding that is infused with real-world examples, skills-based learning, and experiential opportunities. Students will also experience intense interaction and collaboration with a cohort of like-minded professionals who are seeking to increase their own skills. Finally, opportunities will be created for each student to put their new skills to work in California’s capital city (http://mcgeorge.edu/Future_Students/Life_at_McGeorge/ Sacramento_The_Capital_City.htm).

Capital Lawyering Concentration

The Capital Lawyering Concentration (http://www.mcgeorge.edu/Faculty_and_Scholarship/centers_and_institutes/capital_center_for_law_and_policy/the_capital_lawyering_concentration.htm) is a 14-unit course of study and experiential learning, which students pursue at the same time as they earn the McGeorge J.D. degree. The Concentration is offered in conjunction with exclusive capital engagement and networking opportunities.

Capital Lawyering Concentration students complete a series of required and elective courses specially designed to train them to work in and around the California legislature in committees, in private firms that specialize in political law or lobbying, in nonprofit agencies that engage in issue advocacy, in local, state and federal agencies, and in law firms with regulatory practices in areas such as communications, energy, the environment, health and employment. The curriculum ensures that students graduate with real-life experience and on-the-job contacts within the government and public lawyering community. Students also participate in Capital Center student groups, attend Capital Center events, and network with the many Capital Alumni Chapter members in California, Washington, D.C., and elsewhere who work in government and public lawyering careers.

How to Apply
Apply by submitting the online application (http://www.mcgeorge.edu/Capital_Concentration_Application_Form.htm), which requires that you attach your resume and Statement of Purpose (at least 200 words on why you want to obtain the concentration and how it fits into your career goals). This application should be submitted at your earliest stages of planning, and in no case may be submitted after the Add/Drop Deadline of your final law school term. Students must schedule an appointment with the Faculty Director to plan their required curriculum and activities.

Requirements & Curriculum
Capital Lawyering students must complete a minimum of 14 units approved by the Concentration Director, with at least six (6) units being from elective courses. Interested students should submit an application early in law school, and meet with the Concentration Director to develop a course plan to best prepare for their specific Capital Lawyering career objectives.

Health Concentration

Substantial changes in our dynamic healthcare system create job opportunities for health lawyers in a variety of settings. Students in this concentration gain a strong foundation in health law and policy. They acquire the professional skills to represent individual and institutional clients or to work for a state or federal regulatory agency. Because health law is interdisciplinary, students will have the opportunity to take courses with medical students as well as students in other disciplines. These opportunities provide students with insight into the professional and ethical challenges faced by those providing health care to their patients as well as understanding the importance of legal and regulatory compliance. Students will gain supervised, practical experience in a healthcare field placement or legal clinic.

How to Apply

Apply by submitting the online application (http://www.mcgeorge.edu/Health_Concentration_Form.htm), which requires that you attach your resume and Statement of Purpose (at least 200 words on why you want to obtain the concentration and how it fits into your career goals). This application should be submitted at your earliest stages of planning, and in no case may be submitted after the Add/Drop Deadline of your final law school term. Students must schedule an appointment with the Faculty Director to plan their required curriculum and activities.

International Concentration

Globalization is transforming the practice of law, obliging an increasing proportion of legal professionals to learn how to respond to the challenges presented by transnational and intercultural practice. McGeorge’s International Concentration offers a strong foundation for a broad array of careers, whether your interests draw you toward public service or the private sector, to work abroad or in California, to litigation, transactions or a legislative/regulatory practice. Students who complete the concentration requirements will graduate with a solid grounding in public and private international law, in-depth exposure to at least one specialized doctrinal area, and advanced skills training that can help to provide a bridge to practice.

Explore an International Concentration

Related Activities

At McGeorge, you may interact with J.D. and LL.M. students from many other countries on campus. Students with an international interest participate in a number of co-curricular and extracurricular activities, including:

- International Moot Court Competition Teams (http://www.mcgeorge.edu/Students/Academics/Experiential_Learning/Competition_Teams.htm) — Each year, McGeorge fields moot court competition teams in competitions whose subject matter involves international law issues. For the Jessup International Moot Court Competition, held each spring, students prepare a written brief and compete at oral argument on a dispute involving public international law.

- McGeorge International Law Society — McGeorge’s International Law Society is a student organization (http://www.mcgeorge.edu/Students/Student_Life/Student_Organizations.htm) that brings together those interested in international law. Members meet informally to discuss current international legal trends and the society sponsors speakers on current international topics. For example, the Society brought speakers from throughout North America to campus to discuss implications of NAFTA when it was near adoption.

Trial & Appellate Advocacy Concentration

Students who wish to become litigators receive specialized practical training to prepare for careers in litigation, civil and/or criminal trial and appellate work, or dispute resolution. A wide range of courses enables students to learn and demonstrate competencies in writing, appellate and trial advocacy, evidence, trial preparation and conduct, alternative dispute resolution, negotiation, and counseling and representation of clients.

How to Apply

Apply by submitting the online application (http://www.mcgeorge.edu/Trial_and_Appellate_Advocacy_Concentration_Form.htm), which requires that you attach your resume. This application should be submitted at your earliest stages of planning, and in no case may be submitted after the Add/Drop Deadline of your final law school term. The Faculty Director will schedule a meeting with the applicant if required.

Related Activities

Exterships (http://www.mcgeorge.edu/Students/Academics/Experiential_Learning/Exterships.htm) — Students perform on-site legal work as externs under the supervision of externship supervisors in government agencies that specialize in criminal law, including local, state and federal agencies such as the California Attorney General’s Office, the Sacramento County District Attorney's Office and the U.S. Attorney’s Office.

Legal Clinics (http://www.mcgeorge.edu/Students/Academics/Experiential_Learning/Legal_Clinics.htm) — McGeorge features legal clinics that allow students to represent clients in actual criminal law proceedings under the supervision of a professor expert in a specific field. Our Federal Defender Clinic is one of only two in the country where students defend misdemeanor charges in U.S. District Court. The Prisoner Civil Rights Mediation Clinic and the Criminal Appellate Advocacy Clinic also allow students to work with real-world clients.

Students must complete the required and elective courses designated below. With prior written approval, the Concentration Director may vary the requirements of this program in individual cases for good cause. A minimum of 18 units are required for the Trial & Appellate Advocacy Concentration.

PUBLIC POLICY PROGRAMS

MPA
The Master of Public Administration (MPA) prepares professionals for successful careers in management and leadership positions and as advocates for change in making and implementing public policies. The 30-unit core curriculum emphasizes the foundations of public action based in statutes and regulations, value clarity, strategic leadership, analytical skills, and systemic change. Students may also elect an additional 6-12 units for a concentration as a basis for launching a career or developing expertise in a field of their interest.

MPP
The McGeorge Master of Public Policy Program (MPP) is a two-year full-time degree program. Students are required to complete 48 units of interdisciplinary courses to earn the degree. Year One curriculum includes seven required courses and an externship. In the fall semester of year one, students will receive limited tuition waiver support to participate as research assistants analyzing features or California water and health policy arenas. During the summer after Year One, students will participate in a required internship with a policy focus. Year Two features six required courses, three elective courses in concentration areas such as water, health and sustainability, and an internship.

Law Courses

Law Courses

LAW 042. Central American Migration. 2 Units.
At least three significant migration waves characterize the journey north for thousands of Central Americans. The first, provoked by Guatemala’s bloody 36-year civil war, involved thousands of political asylum seekers in Mexico and the United States. In the second wave, natural disaster displaced thousands of environmental and economic refugees. Most recently, in the third wave, primarily women and children are fleeing Central America’s largely private violence when their own governments refuse or are unable to protect them. This course focuses on the social and legal disruptions produced by these waves of migration in the receiving nations, with a focus on Mexico and the United States. Students study and critique the responses of the sending and receiving nations to the phenomena of mass Central American outmigration.

LAW 043. U.S./Lat Amer. Foreign Relation. 2 Units.
The United States has long exerted great influence on Central and South America, sometimes intervening in harmful ways. Examples include the CIA’s overthrow of the government of Guatemala in 1954, the Bay of Pigs invasion of Cuba that led to an embargo that remains largely in effect today, the occupation of the Dominican Republic in 1965, interference with Chile’s democratically elected government, and support of the Contra forces. This course examines selected legal issues relating to foreign relations including the role of treaties and customary international law, the authority and effectiveness of various U.S. and international decision-makers on foreign relations issues, the legality of the use of armed force and covert actions, and the humanitarian consequences of U.S. foreign policy toward Latin America in the past and going forward.

LAW 044. Environmental Protection and International Law in Latin America. 2 Units.
This course will examine critical issues in the relationship between environmental protection and international law in Latin America, with a primary focus on case studies in Guatemala and other Central American countries. The class will explore the relationship between human rights and environmental protection, the role of indigenous peoples and land tenure questions in environmental protection, biodiversity and forest conservation, and the relationship between free trade agreements and countries’ right to permanent sovereignty over their natural resources. These themes will be explored by focusing on case studies that include disputes about mining, forest conservation to address climate change, protected natural areas, and biodiversity protection.

LAW 045. Int’l Environmental Law. 1 Unit.
This course explores international efforts to protect the global environment. It will cover the international legal regimes dealing with climate change, endangered species, hazardous substances, transboundary pollution, and other problems.

LAW 060. Business Ethics: The New Role of Corporate Lawyers. 1 Unit.
This course addresses the new role of corporate lawyers, socially responsible according the modern theories of Legal ethics and to the UN recommendations. It will revise the opportunities and challenges for corporate lawyers, both in house or in law firms, in a globalized world. Finally, it will report good practices for lawyers in order to respond to negative impacts caused by human rights violations of multinational companies, and preventive good practices to avoid it. The course will examine the legal, ethical, policy, soft-law and jurisprudential issues associated with these matters. It will be taught through case law, descriptive readings, simulation exercises, and discussion.

LAW 061. Comparative Sexual Orientation and Gender Identity Law. 1 Unit.
This course provides a comparative overview of the regulation and treatment of gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgender persons. Topics will include the criminalization of sexual conduct as well as marriage and other relational rights. The course will look at developments in the United States (such as the recent decision of the United States Supreme Court mandating nationwide marriage equality) and compare them to developments in the European Union as well as in several others countries around the world. The course grade will be based on class participation (including an in-class presentation) and a take home exam.

LAW 100. Skills Lab- Torts. 1 Unit.
This required first-year course teaches students “best practices” for studying the law and learning legal analytical skills, including IRAC rule-based methodology as a structure for legal analysis, case-briefing, outlining, time-management, and test-taking. This course will be integrated with one of the first-year substantive courses required for students in the fall semester.

LAW 101. Contracts/Analytical Skills. 4 Units.
Contracts/Analytical Skills course offers a practical introduction to a foundational area or areas of law and to the legal method. Students will learn best practices for studying law and developing foundational legal analytical skills so that they may read and understand case law, statutes, and regulations. These analytical skills will include IRAC rule-based methodology as a structure for legal analysis, case-briefing, outlining, and test-taking. Students will also practice negotiating and drafting agreements. This highly interactive course will utilize multiple formative and summative assessments.

LAW 102. Assessment & Review - 1st Year. 0 Units.
This is a non-graded, zero unit course which students are automatically enrolled in to provide a scheduled block in their schedule for assessment and review. Faculty believe that regular assessment and feedback about academic progress is key to student success and therefore schedule assessment throughout the semester, particularly in bar-tested courses. Blocks of time have been designated for this purpose for first and second year students adn are labeled on your schedule as “Assessment & Review Sessios.” These sessions will be held on an as-needed basis; students should plan their schedules accordingly by reserving these blocks in their individual calendars.
LAW 104. Legal Profession. 1 Unit.
The Legal Profession will prepare students to enter into modern legal practice and assist them in developing a professional identity. Students will be introduced to the common ethical dilemmas they will confront as externs, clinical students and practicing lawyers, as well as the role of emerging technology in the provision of legal services. Students will survey the variety of legal practice areas to help them to identify a satisfying career path and learn successful job seeking strategies. Upon registration in Legal Profession, students will be charged a $15 course material fee.

LAW 105. Civil Procedure. 4 Units.
Questions of jurisdiction and venue; federal subject matter jurisdiction such as diversity and federal question jurisdiction; notice and code pleading; Federal Rules of Civil Procedure governing joinder of claims and parties; discovery; summary and default judgments; the right to a jury trial in civil matters; and issues of finality of judgments; appropriate examples drawn from California law.

LAW 110. Contracts. 4 Units.
Formation at common law and under the Uniform Commercial Code; consideration and other bases for enforcing promises; when writing is required; parol evidence and interpretation; unconscionability and other defenses; rights of third parties; excuses for nonperformance; conditions, performance and breach; damages.

LAW 115. Criminal Law. 2-4 Units.
The purpose of criminal law, the procedures by which it is enforced, and its substantive content, including offenses against the person, habitation and property; imputability and responsibility; modifying circumstances negating responsibility; and limitations on criminal capacity.

LAW 119. Make-up Class. 0 Units.
This is a make up period that is blocked off on student schedules to allow for make-up class time. Students will not receive credit for this course and it will not appear on final transcript upon completion of the term. This course block may not be used every week and professors for first year courses will indicate to students in class the dates that they will need to appear.

LAW 122. Global Lawyering Skills I. 2 Units.
Introduction to basic lawyering skills including legal research, writing, and analysis with an emphasis on objective legal reasoning. Students are taught to perform on-line and traditional research in primary and secondary authorities, and are introduced to research in international sources. Writing assignments build in complexity and include memoranda, client letters, and contract drafting, and are based on simulated case files.

LAW 125. Property. 4 Units.
Historical background, possessory and non-possessory interests in land and personality, creation and transfer of property interests, concurrent estates, landlord and tenant law, public regulation of property, eminent domain.

LAW 131. Torts. 4 Units.
The law of civil injuries. Civil liability for interference with a broad array of legally protected interests, focusing on such topics as intentional wrongdoing, negligence, defective products, abnormally dangerous activities, defamation, invasion of privacy, and misrepresentation. Alternatives to the existing tort system will be discussed. (Please note that this course also includes a one-unit Analytical Skills Lab for a total of 5 units.)

LAW 151. Business Associations. 4 Units.
Includes partnerships and nature and formation, capacity and authority of corporations; problems of management; liabilities of officers, directors and shareholders; issuance of shares, distribution of earnings; consolidation, merger and dissolution.

LAW 155. Community Property. 2 Units.

LAW 163. Constitutional Law. 4 Units.
This course will introduce students to the United States Constitution. Coverage may include federalism; separation of powers; the role of the courts (including justiciability); legislative powers; presidential powers; the regulation and protection of the national economy; protection of individual rights under the Constitution; equal protection; due process, including its substantive and procedural aspects; and First Amendment freedoms.

LAW 165. Criminal Procedure. 3 Units.
Constitutional regulation of the administration of criminal justice, including due process of law, unreasonable searches and seizures, compulsory self-incrimination, and the right to counsel; selected - problems in criminal investigation, trial, and post-conviction remedies.

LAW 170. Wills and Trusts. 3 Units.
Coverage includes intestate succession; validity and operation of wills; probate and administration of trusts and estates; use of trusts in estate planning; duties of trustee; rights of beneficiaries and enforcement of trusts. Prerequisite: LAW 125.

LAW 174. Evidence. 4 Units.
The law of evidence in civil and criminal trials, including judicial notice, burden of proof, presumptions, functions of judge and jury, competency and privileges of witnesses; principal rules of admissibility and exclusion of testimony of witnesses and documents.

LAW 178. Evidence (ITAP). 4 Units.
This integrated course coordinates topics covered in Evidence with skills learned in Trial Advocacy. In Trial Advocacy, students learn how to analyze a trial file, construct a case theory, and practice all phases of trial. At the end of the course, students conduct a full-day jury trial. In Evidence, students learn how to analyze admissibility issues under Federal and State Rules of Evidence and work through evidentiary issues concurrently with issues raised in their skills classes, such as making and meeting objections, articulating offers of proof, and learning evidentiary foundations. The concepts taught in Evidence every week are reinforced in Trial Advocacy exercises, while skills taught in Trial Advocacy every week, are reinforced in Evidence hypotheticals. This concurrent study of evidentiary issues with their practical application in the trial setting is designed to reinforce a deep understanding of both Evidence and Trial Advocacy in context. The Integrated Course satisfies the requirement of Evidence, earning students 4-units for Evidence, and qualifies as an elective earning 3 credits for Trial Advocacy. Students who enroll in the combined course must take and complete all 7 units. (Evidence, Graded; Trial Advocacy, optional; Graded/Pass-Fail). Automatically enrolled in course 812. (Practicum).
LAW 182. Global Lawyering Skills II. 2 Units.
A continuation of the lawyering skills training provided in GLS Introduction. Students prepare trial and appellate court briefs and oral arguments using a simulated case file. Students work through a year-long problem representing one side of a simulated case. They are introduced to domestic and transnational legal issues, as well as strategic considerations concerning representations, litigation, and alternative dispute resolution.

LAW 185. Professional Responsibility. 2 Units.
Regulation of the legal profession and the ethical responsibilities of its members; the attorney-client relationship; advertising, solicitation and group legal service plans; compensation for legal services; fiduciary duties to client; avoiding conflicts of interest; competent representation; withdrawal from representation; duties and limitations on zealous representation; obligations to other attorneys, the court and the public; judicial ethics.

LAW 190. Remedies and Principles of Law. 3 Units.
A study of the theory and application of equitable remedies; the principles of equitable jurisdiction; the substantive law elements of restitution and damages. Course taught using online and distance technologies. Class will meet live online each week, after students complete an online pretest, to discuss assigned cases and materials, work through hypothetical problems and engage in discussion. There will be ample interaction with the professor and other students both inside and outside the formal structure of the course throughout its duration and there will be ample assessment of student effort and learning throughout the course. Limited Enrollment. Course to be taken during senior year.

LAW 200. Accounting for Lawyers. 2-3 Units.
This course provides exposure to principles of accounting from the perspective of the practicing attorney. Students will study the fundamentals of U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) and International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS), as well as an array of legal issues important to both transactional attorneys and litigators. Students who are Certified Public Accountants (CPAs) or undergraduate accounting majors may not enroll in this course. (P/F).

LAW 202. Principles of Legal Analysis I. 1 Unit.
This course examines the transformation of the governance of public corporations in the aftermath of recent corporate scandal. It will assess the role of directors and senior officers, and the responsibilities of those advising them. It will also examine the changing claims and rights of other stakeholders, including shareholders, creditors and employees. Students will examine the legal theories of the public corporation in order to assess recent reforms, and will situate domestic developments in light of international responses and approaches. Other key issues will include corporate social responsibility; the role of institutional investors; "shareholder democracy"; the roles of professionals advising boards; executive compensation; Sarbanes-Oxley; and other legislative and regulatory responses to Enron and other scandals. Selected case studies will round out coverage. Evaluation is by class participation, case study presentation, short research paper and final take-home examination. Prerequisite: LAW 150 or LAW 151.

LAW 206. Corporate Governance. 3 Units.
This course examines the transformation of the governance of public corporations in the aftermath of recent corporate scandal. It will assess the role of directors and senior officers, and the responsibilities of those advising them. It will also examine the changing claims and rights of other stakeholders, including shareholders, creditors and employees. Students will examine the legal theories of the public corporation in order to assess recent reforms, and will situate domestic developments in light of international responses and approaches. Selected case studies will round out coverage. Evaluation is by class participation, case study presentation, short research paper and final take-home examination. Prerequisite: LAW 150 or LAW 151.

LAW 208. Principles Legal Analysis II. 1 Unit.
This course focuses on the study, organizational, writing and expression skills necessary for law school, the bar examination, and legal practice. The course will have a specific focus on legal analysis, including rule synthesis, deductive reasoning, analogical reasoning, issue analysis, as well as other skills such as exam preparation, time management, and outlining. Students will complete various assessment exercises and will receive detailed feedback on their work. This course meets during the week before classes begin in August and during the fall semester. By invitation only or with Director approval. (JD preferred).

LAW 209. Local Agency Practice. 2 Units.
California has thousands of local agencies and special districts providing essential services. This course explores local agency decision making in a variety of substantive areas. In this active learning course, the substantive mandates and policies are integrated into practical simulations and realistic legal assignments that emphasize advocacy, negotiation, and litigation. The litigation component examines administrative and traditional writs in addition to validation and reverse validation actions - unique and specialized lawsuits brought to challenge government actions. The course will focus on the substantive areas of the Brown Act, Public Records Act, California Environmental Quality Act, and Political Reform Act. (Practicum).

LAW 210. Business Planning. 2-3 Units.
Consideration of selected problems involving the organization, financing, operation, and restructuring of business enterprises. The problems require the combined consideration and application of corporate, tax, and securities law, accounting and financial matters, and business considerations and strategies. The problems also raise pertinent questions regarding the relationship between the business client and counsel and attendant problems concerning a lawyer's professional responsibility. Students may be expected to prepare research memoranda, legal opinions, and draft necessary documents. Prerequisites: LAW 150 or LAW 151; LAW 300.

LAW 211. Entrepreneurial Management. 2-3 Units.
This practicum course introduces students to the process and skills of entrepreneurship and new company development from initial launch through final exit. Topics include how to evaluate new business opportunities, how to assemble human, financial, and strategic resources for a new firm, and how to manage growth and exits. Weekly sessions will include not only thematic lectures and case discussions, but also in-depth discussions with leading Sacramento businesspeople on the topic of the week. Because this is a practicum course, students will learn not only through lectures and cases, but will also "learn by doing" in working on collaborative projects with Sacramento area entrepreneurs. The course concludes with a high profile public event in which students will have the opportunity to "showcase" their skills. The course is aimed at students seeking greater knowledge of business management skills and contexts.

LAW 212. Intro. to Legal Analysis. 2 Units.
This course provides students with an overview of the American legal system, including the sources and development of law as well as the dispute resolution process. Government ethics laws seek to ensure that private interests do not play a role in a public servant’s decision-making. Students will examine rules regarding economic or personal conflict of interests; gift limits; campaign disclosure and finance restrictions; financial disclosure requirements; open government and public meeting requirements; rules regulating lobbyists. The first part of the seminar examines why we have ethics rules, their development under constitutional and State law, and the state ethics rules that apply to local governments, examining select local ethics codes expanding on these requirements. In the second part of the seminar, students will meet weekly in groups to research and then draft a section of a model local Ethics Code to be offered to municipalities as a model and to be published on the website of the Capital Center. Enrollment limit.

LAW 403. Corrupt Foreign Practices. 1 Unit.
This interactive course will focus on corrupt practices in international commerce and finance. Students will learn about the interaction between local anti-corruption and similar legislation and long-arm legislation affecting the conduct of business, such as the U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act and the UK Bribery Act. The course will also examine compliance and training programs designed to prevent corruption and similar practices and, whistleblowing regimes and internal investigations designed to uncover illegal activity where the compliance and training programs have not been successful. The course will involve practical experience in analyzing corrupt practices, advising on the legal consequences and the course of action for the client in the event such activity does occur. (Practicum).
LAW 404. Global Infrastructure Development. 1 Unit.
This interactive course introduces students to the challenges facing global infrastructure development. Once the sole responsibility of government, public finances are insufficient to undertake the investment needed to keep pace with growing demand. Governments are increasingly looking to private capital to fill the void. The World Bank, export credit agencies and other multilaterals, along with state-owned infrastructure banks, play an important role in financing infrastructure projects, but that too is insufficient to fill the growing finance gap. This introductory course will examine the traditional roles of public sector and multilateral development institutions in infrastructure development and explore different approaches for increasing private sector participation; including an overview of contractual arrangements. (Practicum).

LAW 405. Worker's Compensation Law. 2 Units.
This course will examine case law and the statutory, regulatory framework of the California Worker's Compensation system. Students will study employment relationships, causation of injury, benefits, procedure and practice, including trial preparation and appellate review. Classroom exercises and assignments will involve real-life scenarios that require students to use critical thinking and analysis to develop advice and strategies for potential clients (injured workers, employers and insurers). Students will develop a working knowledge of this complex system which covers all California workers and their employers. (Practicum).

LAW 410. White Collar Crime. 2 Units.

LAW 490. Expert and Scientific Evidence. 2 Units.
This course introduces students to the theories underlying expert and scientific evidence as well as practical strategies for developing, discovering, presenting, cross-examining, and impeaching such evidence. Students examine the pertinent rules of procedure and evidence, as well as their application to a wide range of forensic disciplines, including biology, chemistry, computer analysis, criminalistics, engineering, mathematics, medicine, psychology and physics. Students also participate in practical presentations. No scientific background is required Prerequisite: LAW 174 or LAW 175.

LAW 500. Administrative Law. 3 Units.
Students study the practices and procedures of administrative agencies; jurisdiction and judicial review applicable to administrative agencies; scope and effect of their decisions; legislation applicable to administrative agencies.
This course will center on a three-and-a-half-day field trip that will take students to world-class teaching locations in eastern and southeastern California. The field trip will employ a truly unique, interdisciplinary approach that will help students experience the locations we will visit from two distinctly different perspectives – law and environmental science. The field trip follows a 1,000-mile loop from Sacramento, east over the Sierra Nevada to South Lake Tahoe, then down I-395 to Mono Lake and then southeast to the dustbowl of Owens Dry Lake, Death Valley, and the Mojave Desert, and then finally back to Sacramento via the farmlands of the Central Valley. The list of locations we will visit during the trip reads like a who’s who of California’s most interesting (and vexing) environmental problems. Upon registration in CA Environmental Cases & Places, students will be charged a $200 fee for travel related expenses.

LAW 503. Legislation and Statutory Interpretation. 3 Units.
In this age of statutory proliferation, an understanding of how courts interpret statutes is a crucial skill every attorney should possess. The dominant purpose of this class is to train students to make effective statutory interpretation arguments on behalf of their clients. Through a combination of exercises and cases, the class explores the academic and judicial debate concerning appropriate methods of statutory interpretation. In addition to studying the legislative process, students will learn different devices that are used in the interpretation of statutes, such as canons of construction, legislative history and precedent, as well as different theories of statutory interpretation, such as textualism, dynamic statutory interpretation and purposive interpretation. (Practicum).

LAW 506. Law and Literature. 1-2 Units.
This reading course focuses on the representation of law, lawyers, and legal and ethical issues in world literature. Each seminar participant is required to prepare a presentation on one of the pre-selected –literary works and to discuss (i) how the law and lawyers are presented in the work; (ii) what legal, socio-political or ethical problem(s) the work highlights; (iii) how the work resolves the problem(s), if at all; and (iv) how the work might influence a reader’s understanding of the law. Participation in the seminar is limited to ten students, who are expected to choose one of the designated works prior to the beginning of the program. Grading will be based upon the student’s presentation and a short summary paper.

LAW 507. Environmental Law. 3 Units.
This course is a survey of legal principles and policies relating to protection and enhancement of the physical environment. Particular attention is given to common law doctrines and public rights and remedies; federal and state control programs for the fields of air pollution, water pollution, noise, solid waste management, fish and wildlife resources; planning for federal, state and local administrative agencies.

LAW 508. Law and Politics. 2 Units.
This course will focus on lawyers, courts and legal doctrine as political agents and will explore the various dimensions of effecting political and social change through law and lawyers. The materials will be drawn from political science, history, the legal academy, public policy, and political theory. The substantive topics will include the role of lawyers in the political process, judicial decision-making and processes, law as a tool for political change, and law as a tool for social control.

LAW 509. Special Topics in Environmental Law. 2 or 3 Units.
This course will explore a specific field or issue in environmental law. The particular focus of the course, course requirements, and any prerequisites will be provided in the registration materials for the semester in which the course is offered. Students will be required to complete a substantial scholarly paper. Priority will be given students pursuing the Environmental Law Concentration. Prerequisite or concurrent enrollment: LAW 507.

LAW 510. Natural Resources Law. 3 Units.
Students examine the law and policy relating to the use of federally owned lands for the production or enjoyment of various natural resources. Major themes include the history of federal public land law and policy, the jurisdictional authority of the federal government and the states over public lands, and the respective roles of the federal legislative, executive and judicial branches in formulating and enforcing natural resources law and policy. Specific natural resources considered include water, minerals, timber, grazing, wildlife, recreation, and the preservation of historical and environmental values. (Practicum).

LAW 511. Climate Change Law & Policy. 2 Units.

LAW 512. California Environmental Law. 3 Units.

LAW 513. Climate Change Law & Policy. 3 Units.

LAW 514. Drafting Laws and Regulations. 2 Units.
Students gain practical experience in researching, drafting, and pursuing adoption of California state legislative and regulatory proposals. Students participate in a weekly meeting to present the results of their team collaborations with other students outside of the classroom and to receive feedback from the professor and fellow students. Students are responsible for identifying a client in need of a state law change, analyzing the deficiencies in current law and practice, drafting proposed statuses or regulations, refining the proposals to reflect public affairs and political realities, crafting a strategy for effectuating the change, and pursuing adoption of their final proposals in the California Legislature or an administrative agency. Activities include preparing briefing materials, presenting proposals to the appropriate governmental offices, assembling a grassroots and support coalition, seeking favorable media coverage, lobbying for change, meeting with opposing parties to discuss their concerns and negotiate changes, and participating in public hearings. By the end of the course, students are expected to have demonstrated competence in devising and executing a realistic strategy for passing legislation or petitioning a state government department to adopt a rule change. Admission into the year-long clinic is by an application process, and preference will be given to students pursuing a Capital Certificate in Public Law and Policy. Enrollment limit. Year-long (4 Graded, 2 per semester).

LAW 515. Conflict of Laws. 3 Units.

LAW 572. Public Health Law. 3 Units.
Students study legal powers and duties of government to assure the conditions necessary for the public to be healthy (e.g., to identify, prevent, and ameliorate health risks to the population), and the limitations on government’s power to constrain the autonomous, privacy, proprietary, and other legally protected interests of individuals for the protection and promotion of public health. Topics covered include the foundation and scope of public health state policy powers; health promotion, persuasion, and free expression control of infectious diseases; bioterrorism; public health regulation of property and the professions; tort law's role in public health; and obesity and the scope of public health.

LAW 573. Bioethics and the Law. 1 Unit.
This course examines the developing area of Bioethics, considering legal topics such as assisted reproduction, wrongful conception/birth/life, and death and dying. The course will also look at the regulation of research involving human subjects as well as the rationing of human organs.

LAW 576. Intro to Capital Lawyering. 2 Units.
This course introduces students to the lawyer's role in developing, modifying, implementing, advocating, and influencing public policy, including: legislation, regulations, executive orders, court orders, and other policy edicts at the national, state, and local levels. Students learn how to do policy analysis; learn the essential organization and procedures of the various policymaking venues; are able to consider and weigh strategic implications associated with the various venues and processes; conduct research using a variety of sources unique to policymaking in California and other settings; learn and develop skills for advocacy, negotiation and compromise in a policymaking setting; and practice applying course knowledge and skills to important public policy matters of the day. Students complete a project on an actual and current public policy problem.

LAW 577. Compliance in the Healthcare Industry. 1 Unit.
Healthcare regulatory compliance is a dynamic and evolving field where law and business intersect. Students will learn the basic principles of compliance, including relevant laws and regulations, and how compliance operates within a pharmaceutical organization. Using simulations and other active learning methods, students will draft compliance policies, learn how to enforce standards within a complex organization, and learn how compliance professionals use legal and business knowledge to enhance the image of pharmacy and biotech companies in American healthcare. (Simulation).

LAW 578. Navigating HR in Health Care. 2 Units.
HR professionals working in health care must become familiar with a variety of legal and regulatory issues including nursing staffing ratios, licensure and hospital privileges, accreditation, health and safety initiatives, and administering house staff programs. Classroom exercises and assignments will involve real-life scenarios that require students to use critical thinking and analysis to develop advice and strategies for HR customers. Employment Law is strongly recommended.

LAW 579. Affordable Care Act Seminar. 2 Units.
This seminar will examine the Patient Protection & Affordable Care Act, exploring the objectives of the Act as well as the impact that implementation and legal challenges have had on the likelihood that the Act’s objectives will be achieved. Topics will include an overview of healthcare delivery in the U.S., the Affordable Care Act’s structure, legal challenges and interpretative issues such as Medicaid expansion, the individual mandate, challenges to availability of subsidies, the essential health benefits and related requirements (i.e., contraceptive mandate, preventive screenings, etc.), and current and future developments in healthcare reform. The students undertake a substantial research and writing project. Enrollment limit.

LAW 590. Animal Law. 2 Units.
This course focuses on the treatment of animals in a wide variety of contexts, including their legal classification as property, rights and remedies within the tort system for injuries inflicted on animals, the development of laws relating to commercial uses of animals, including for laboratory research, and means of protecting animals through legislation and anti-cruelty laws. The course provides an opportunity to think critically about the historical and current treatment of animals by the legal system and to consider what role law plays in determining their future.

LAW 591. Crimmigration. 3 Units.
This seminar introduces students to the principal areas of convergence between immigration and criminal law, including the history and evolution of local and federal criminalization of immigrants and those who associate with immigrants; the nascent procedural due process revolution triggered by the seminal U.S. Supreme Court case of Padilla v. Kentucky, which recognized a limited right to counsel for immigrants; and the increasingly harsh consequences of the commission of crime on immigrants. This course is for students who want to practice criminal or immigration law or anyone interested in legislation or policy-making. Immigration Law & Policy is strongly recommended as a pre or co-requisite.

This course is an in-depth examination of the principles, techniques, and sources of legal research taught via a combination of in-person class meetings and distance education. Students gain an understanding of research strategies through in-person and online lectures, readings, videos, discussions, and research exercises. Students complete multiple fact-based assignments as well as a final examination. There is ample interaction with the professor and other students both inside and outside the formal structure of the course throughout its duration, and ample assessment of student effort and learning throughout the course. Students are precluded from this course if they have taken Advanced Legal Research in a different format. (P/F) Enrollment Limit. (Practicum).

LAW 804. Criminal Pretrial Litigation. 2 Units.
This course includes lectures, demonstrations, and extensive student participation in all phases of criminal pretrial litigation: investigation, client and witness interviewing and preparation, case evaluation, charging decisions, discovery, pretrial hearings including grand jury and preliminary hearings, pretrial motions, plea negotiations, sentencing considerations, and ethical considerations in all phases. Students draft documents pertaining to all aspects of criminal pretrial practice. (Simulation).
LAW 806. Honors Legal Writing Seminar. 2 Units.
This limited-enrollment graded course is designed for students with demonstrated strong writing ability and a desire for greater writing sophistication. The emphasis will be on rhetorical approaches to legal writing, including principles of organization, clarity, and style. Students will write almost weekly assignments, some of which will be critiqued and graded by the professor, and many of which will be used as the basis for critique and suggestion from all the members of the seminar. Students will be invited to apply based on past performance in LAW 122 and on the appellate brief in LAW 182. (Limited enrollment).

LAW 807. Advanced Appellate Advocacy Seminar. 2 Units.
This course is required for students competing on Moot Court teams. It focuses on advanced theory and practice of appellate advocacy, including the appellate process, preparation of appellate briefs and presentation of oral arguments; Enrollment must be approved by course instructor and is limited. All students will prepare two appellate briefs while participating in interschool competitions. Prerequisite: Global Lawyering Skills II, unless waived by the professor.

LAW 809. Civil Pretrial Litigation. 2 Units.
This course includes lectures, demonstrations, and extensive student participation in simulations concerning all aspects of civil litigation before trial with particular emphasis on strategies for efficiently securing favorable outcomes. Areas of coverage include: early informal investigation, identifying a "theory of the case," how case theory affects formation of a discovery plan, selecting among informal and formal discovery choices, choosing deponents, tactics of taking and defending depositions, preparing interrogatories and interrogatory responses, tactics of propounding and responding to other discovery requests, options for resolution of discovery disputes, evaluation of potential pretrial motions for full or partial summary adjudication, and pretrial submissions. Students draft documents pertaining to all aspects of civil pretrial practice. (Simulation).

LAW 812. Trial Advocacy. 3 Units.
This course is designed (a) to make students competent in the basic skills of courtroom jury trial, (b) to enhance student’s knowledge of the rules of evidence by application in the trial context, and (c) to enhance students capabilities in public speaking and persuasion. The course deals with all phases of trial work including voir dire of jury panel, opening and closing statements, direct and cross-examination of witnesses, and presentation of evidence (including the use of computer-based slides and exhibit displays). Ethical problems in trial practice are also considered. Each student conducts a full-scale mock civil and criminal trial. Extensive use is made of videotape for feedback and critique. Open to all students currently enrolled in or having completed one of the following: LAW 174, LAW 175 or LAW 176. (P/F or graded, at the student’s option, which must be declared by the end of the first week of the course.) (Simulation).

LAW 815. Advanced Trial Advocacy. 3 Units.
This course consists of lecture (including frequent demonstrations), combined with weekly practice sessions, covering at an advanced level: case theory development (including discussion of integration of case theory with jury instructions), persuasive opening statements, organization and technique of direct examination, advanced techniques of cross examination, direct and cross examination of expert witnesses, closing argument using analogy and storytelling techniques, jury selection, complex topics in evidence, special exercises in communications, vocal arts, and movement. Prerequisite: LAW 812 OR LAW 816. (Simulation).

LAW 815L. Adv. Trial Advocacy - Lecture. 0 Units.
This course consists of lecture (including frequent demonstrations), combined with weekly practice sessions, covering at an advanced level: case theory development (including discussion of integration of case theory with jury instructions), persuasive opening statements, organization and technique of direct examination, advanced techniques of cross examination, direct and cross examination of expert witnesses, closing argument using analogy and storytelling techniques, jury selection, complex topics in evidence, special exercises in communications, vocal arts, and movement. Prerequisite: LAW 812 OR LAW 816. (Simulation).

LAW 816. Integrated Trial Advocacy. 3 Units.
This integrated course for second-year day and third-year evening students coordinates topics covered in Evidence with skills learned in Trial Advocacy. In Trial Advocacy, students learn how to analyze a trial file, construct a case theory, and practice all phases of trial. At the end of the course, students conduct a full-day jury trial. In Evidence, students learn how to analyze admissibility issues under Federal and State Rules of Evidence and work through evidentiary issues concurrently with issues raised in their skills classes, such as making and meeting objections, articulating offers of proof, and learning evidentiary foundations. The concepts taught in Evidence every week are reinforced in Trial Advocacy exercises, while skills taught in Trial Advocacy every week, are reinforced in Evidence hypotheticals. This concurrent study of evidentiary issues with their practical application in the trial setting is designed to reinforce a deep understanding of both Evidence and Trial Advocacy in context. The Integrated Course satisfies the requirement of Evidence, earning students 4-units for Evidence, and qualifies as an elective earning 3 credits for Trial Advocacy. Students who enroll in the combined course must take and complete all 7 units. (Evidence - Graded; Trial Advocacy – Optional. Graded or P/F) (LAW 174 or LAW 175 or LAW 176, Graded; LAW 812 or LAW 816, optional, Graded/Pass-Fail. Automatically enrolled in course LAW 176). (Simulation).

LAW 820. Administrative Adjudication Clinic. 2 Units.
This clinic is a comprehensive overview of administrative process through classes & simulated hearings. Students are assigned to an administrative agency to participate as an actual decision-maker. Admission into the Administrative Adjudication Clinic is by an application process. (P/F) Enrollment limit.

LAW 821. Taking and Defending Depositions. 2 Units.
This course provides students with the practical, hands-on experience of preparing for, taking and defending depositions. Using a realistic case file, each student learns to: understand the various roles of a deposition – use as a discovery tool, evidentiary support for motions and impeachment at trial; prepare for the deposition including preparing the deponent; create an outline of a deposition; take a deposition, defend a deposition and play the role of a client or witness being deposed; and draft a file memo summarizing the deposition. Each student receives in-depth feedback from the professor. Enrollment limit. (Simulation).
LAW 822. Lawmaking in California. 2 Units.
This course covers the fundamental components of the legislative process, policy and ethics including legislative procedure, bill drafting and analysis, history and intent, advocacy, relationships with the executive branch, and powers and limits of the legislative branch. Students learn about statutory and regulatory lawmaking and observe the lawmaking process in action. Students draft legislation (bills and amendments) and analyses. The making of statutory law has an increasingly critical role in our legal system. This course prepares students who want to continue their studies in the legislative arena and participate in the Legislation & Public Policy Clinic.

LAW 824. Written Discovery. 2 Units.
This course introduces students to the conceptual, legal, strategic, and practical issues relating to written discovery in civil litigation. The course also teaches students how to draft and respond to special and interrogatories, requests for admission, and demands for production in a simulated case. Enrollment limit. (Simulation).

LAW 826. Negotiating Disputes Into Deals. 2 Units.
This course focuses on creative problem-solving techniques integral to a negotiator's toolbox, examining how to create value when negotiating common disputes. The course uses a live negotiation simulation where students can develop strategies, employ bargaining tactics, and structure agreements, tools that are applicable to a wide range of negotiation contexts. Through simulation, combined with lecture and small group exercises, students negotiate a resolution to a conflict and draft a settlement agreement. Enrollment limit. (Simulation).

LAW 853. Legislative & Public Policy Clinic. 2 Units.
Students gain practical experience in researching, drafting, and pursuing adoption of California state legislative and regulatory proposals. Students participate in a weekly meeting to present the results of their team collaborations with other students outside of the classroom and to receive feedback from the professor and fellow students. Students are responsible for identifying a client in need of a state law change, analyzing the deficiencies in current law and practice, drafting proposed statutes or regulations, refining the proposals to reflect public affairs and political realities, crafting a strategy for effectuating the change, and pursuing adoption of their final proposals in the California Legislature or an administrative agency. Activities include preparing briefing materials, presenting proposals to the appropriate governmental offices, assembling a grassroots and support coalition, seeking favorable media coverage, lobbying for change, meeting with opposing parties to discuss their concerns and negotiate changes, and participating in public hearings. By the end of the course, students are expected to have demonstrated competence in devising and executing a realistic strategy for passing legislation or petitioning a state government department to adopt a rule change. Admission into the year-long clinic is by an application process, and preference will be given to students pursuing a Capital Certificate in Public Law and Policy. Enrollment limit. Year-long (4 units, with the approval of the professor. The clinic includes a weekly, one-hour seminar. (Limited enrollment) Graded.

LAW 859. Small Business Law Clinic. 3 Units.
Students will gain practical experience in client interviewing, researching, case management, document preparation and other skills necessary to represent the legal needs of small business entrepreneurs. Working with a business law firm that agrees to represent clients in a pro or low bono capacity, students will participate in a weekly seminar to discuss best practices, legal and procedural issues that arise when meeting the legal needs of small business clients. By the end of the course, students will be expected to have demonstrated competence of the basic business and transactional legal skills necessary to represent the legal needs of a small business, either in the start-up process or on-going needs. Completion of Business Associations is a pre-requisite unless waived with the approval of the professor. The clinic includes a weekly, one-hour seminar. (Limited enrollment) Graded.

LAW 865. Immigration Clinic. 2 or 3 Units.
Students will provide legal assistance to low-income clients on immigration matters and direct representation in adjustment of status & naturalization matters, such as family petitions. Admission into Immigration Law Clinic is by an application process. Choice of 2 or 3 units, with the approval of the professor. Prerequisite: Completion of or concurrent enrollment in Immigration & Naturalization Law. Enrollment limit.

LAW 874. Federal Defender Clinic. 3 Units.
Students represent indigent defendants charged with misdemeanors before Federal Magistrate Judges in the first semester, under the joint supervision of a Federal Defender and McGeorge faculty. Students hone their skills in client counseling, plea negotiation, case analysis, oral and written advocacy and trial techniques. Students conduct evidentiary hearings and many conduct full jury trials. Admission into the year-long Federal Defender Clinic is by an application process. Prerequisite: Concurrent enrollment in LAW 895. Enrollment limit.

LAW 875. Bankruptcy Clinic. 3 Units.
The Bankruptcy Clinic provides a practical skills experience in insolvency issues and proceedings. Enrolled students interview and counsel clients, and assist clients in all aspects of case assessment, negotiation and settlement, and representation of debtors and creditors in bankruptcy proceedings in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Eastern District of California. The Bankruptcy Clinic also represents both debtors and creditors in adversary proceedings including objections to discharge and other related proceedings. Choice of 2 or 3 units, with the approval of the professor. Prerequisite: Completion of or concurrent enrollment in LAW 225 or LAW 223. Enrollment limit.

LAW 881. Legal Problem Solving for Construction Clients. 1 Unit.
Students learn practical problem solving skills and become familiar with construction law in California, using a simulated California construction project to address legal issues as they would arise on a real project. Upon completion of the course, students are able to provide competent and ethical advice to construction professionals in both public and private settings. Students work with construction contractors to learn the typical parties to such contracts, and to identify contractual provisions frequently contested in construction disputes. Students learn about the public and private works bidding process and construction claims process, and also how to draft a detailed opinion letter to a construction client. Students identify and resolve ethical issues in counseling a construction client. Enrollment limit. (Practicum).
LAW 882. California Parole Hearings and Litigation. 1 Unit.
Students learn the procedural and legal components of parole suitability hearings for life-term prison inmates eligible for parole in California. This course covers a brief history of parole, the procedures of parole suitability hearings, regulatory standards, the Governor's review of parole decisions, litigation avenues available to inmates denied parole, and judicial review of parole determinations. Students participate in lectures, in-class discussions, mock parole suitability hearings, and oral arguments challenging or defending parole decisions. Students gain an understanding of the parole process in California from the perspective of inmates, parole commissioners, victims' families, inmate attorneys, district attorneys, appellate litigators, and the Governor. (Limited Enrollment.).

LAW 886. Criminal Appellate Advocacy Clinic. 3 Units.
This clinic is a natural next step for students who have completed the GLS series, and will complement the simulated advanced experience students may obtain in the appellate competition teams. Students represent indigent clients in criminal appeals to the Third Appellate District of the California Court of Appeals. This representation is done in cooperation with CCAP, the Central California Appellate Program, which is appointed counsel for these appeals. Working in teams of two, students review the record and prepare an appellate brief. As part of the requirements of the clinic, students give a mock oral argument for one of the appeals they are handling. Admission into the Criminal Appellate Advocacy Clinic is by an application process. Prerequisites: GLS II, Criminal Procedure, and prior or concurrent enrollment in Evidence and Civil Procedure for State Bar student certification. Enrollment limit. Prerequisites are LAW 182, LAW 165, and prior or concurrent enrollment in LAW 174 or LAW 175 or LAW 176 and LAW 105 for State Bar student certification. Limited Enrollment.

LAW 895. Federal Pretrial/Trial Litigation Seminar. 2 Units.
This course provides the podium component of a full year Federal Defender Clinic experience. Students participate in in-depth legal and case analysis, problem-solving, advocacy training, client counseling, simulated hearings and trials based on actual case files, and the preparation of motions, briefs and case analysis memoranda. Class discussions include ethical issues encountered in criminal defense work. The focus is on criminal defense in the Federal system, including how the structure and prosecution/defense roles reflect social and political values. Students are required to stay current on criminal law procedure and sentencing issues and engage in critical thinking about both legal/ case strategy and broader issues raised by the representation of indigent clients. (Enrollment limited to those enrolled in LAW 874.).

LAW 909. Prisoner Civil Rights Mediation Clinic. 3 Units.
Students co-mediate Section 1983 prisoner civil rights cases with a Federal Magistrate Judge during this year-long clinic. Under Section 1983, prisoners in state prisons have the right to file a civil rights complaint seeking relief for alleged violation of rights protected by the Constitution or created by federal statute. Students learn both the theory and practice of mediation and develop the skills necessary to serve as mediators, including conducting pre-mediation meetings with both sides. Students learn Section 1983 prisoner case law and work closely with Federal District Court personnel. Admission into the year-long Prisoner Civil Rights Mediation Clinic is by an application process, and is limited to third and fourth-year students. Prerequisite: LAW 526, LAW 802, LAW 525 or a non-credit basic 40-hour mediation workshop with the consent of the professor. Enrollment limit.

LAW 912. Housing Mediation Clinic. 3 Units.
Students learn the basics of landlord/tenant law and develop the skills necessary to serve as mediators. They participate in landlord/tenant mediation simulations to prepare them to serve as mediators in landlord/ tenant mediations in an innovative Housing Court pilot project funded by the Shriver Civil Counsel Act. Admission into the Housing Mediation Clinic is by an application process. Prerequisite: LAW 526, LAW 802, LAW 525 or a non-credit basic 40-hour mediation workshop with the consent of the professor. Prerequisite: LAW 980.

LAW 982. Trial Evidence. 1 Unit.
This course will teach students trial evidence using the case files they will be assigned in regional and national competitions. They will learn "integrated evidence/advocacy" by studying the Federal Rules of Evidence and applying them to different fact patterns. This method of integration will deepen their knowledge of the FRE and assist them in persuasive advocacy by offering and opposing evidence in trial. This course is a 1 unit graded course required for all Mock Trial team members.

LAW 986. Dissertation. 12 Units.
This course is for JSD students who are completing an approved Dissertation. (12 units, graded).

LAW 989. Master's Thesis. 6 Units.
This course is for LLM students who are completing an approved Master's Thesis project. (3 units, graded).

LAW 990. Directed Research. 1-2 Units.
Students complete comprehensive individual research projects under the supervision of a faculty member resulting in a scholarly paper. Topic and unit credit must be approved in advance. (P/F).

LAW 991. Directed Research, Graduate Level. 1-2 Units.
Graduate Level Directed Research provides the opportunity for LL.M. students to engage in a comprehensive individual research project under the supervision of a full-time faculty member. The work product may take the form of a scholarly paper, empirical study, analysis of topical readings, or other creative format that demonstrates in-depth legal research and original analysis. Advanced approval of the research topic and unit credit is required. A student must submit a detailed written proposal of the research topic and obtain approval from a full-time faculty member willing to supervise the student's research. The proposal and a complete "Graduate Level Directed Research Approval Form" must then be submitted for approval to the Director of Graduate & International Programs prior to end of the registration period for the term in which the student intends to enroll in Directed Research. Directed Research must be supervised throughout the semester by a full-time faculty member. Specifics regarding supervision of the course are left to the supervising faculty member, however, the general expectation is that the student will take responsibility for ensuring that an outline, drafts, and the final project are completed by the established deadlines. A student may enroll for either one or two credit units for Directed Research. A student is expected to put in at least 50 hours of work for each credit hour. If the resulting work product is a paper, as a general rule, the student should produce a paper of approximately 15 pages in length including footnotes for one unit of credit or 25 pages in length including footnotes for two units of credit. A student is not permitted to receive credit for Directed Research for a project produced for the student's employer or for any other law school course or activity.

LAW 995. Visiting Program/Off Campus. 18 Units.
This course is used to track enrollment for students taking coursework at another institution as a visiting student.

Public Policy Courses

Public Policy Courses

PUB 211. Conflicted, Complex, Uncertain. 3 Units.
Sets public policy making and implementation in contexts of value conflicts, complexity and uncertainty especially as addressed in US democratic system of governance but also comparatively globally. Starts with structural design of the US constitution (separation of powers, federal system, and limited government). Includes analysis of major changes in structures, powers and activities with emphasis on roles and responsibilities of public professionals. Establishes importance of analyses from differing perspectives: individual/household, communities (of place or interest), firms/organizations, public agencies and public interest, including intergenerational. Introduction to tools premised on rational public policy making and implementation. Major attention to tools of analysis and instruments of action that explicitly incorporate value conflict, complexity and uncertainty.

PUB 212. Routines and Exceptions. 3 Units.
Election, legislative and budget processes and calendars are examples of routines critical to making and implementing public policies. So too are statutory requirements shaping critical internal processes (e.g., collective bargaining) or policy and program decision processes (e.g., California Environmental Quality Act or US Affordable Care Act) and standards established by professional bodies (e.g., Government Accounting Standards Board). These routines are analyzed strategically, as to use and also as tools That can be changed. Budget processes receive the greatest attention as a common, powerful routine and to ensure students gain relevant skills. Exceptional actions are analyzed as sometimes required for success, but which can also have unintended consequences.
PUB 213. Enhancing Societal Capacity. 3 Units.
Enhanced societal capacity is an overarching goal of public policy. Today's quality of life, economic competitiveness and opportunity, or use of natural resources, reflect past choices. Societal capacity to choose and to act will determine our futures and should be viewed globally. Progress here is not synonymous with “larger” or more “active” government as very important public purposes are achieved by actions which protect the liberty of or empower individuals, households, firms and communities. However, important societal purposes are achieved by public action that requires capacity derived from legal authority, technical competencies, fiscal resources, political support and networked relationships. Examination of a broad, global range of policy making and implementation tools, ranging from individual or family choice (e.g., in schools), through expertise (e.g., scientists) and a variety of techniques to learn from assessment of policy and program implementation, all analyzed from different perspectives established in PUB 211.

PUB 214. Budgets, Financial Management. 3 Units.
Develops understanding of budget types and processes in public and nonprofit organizations. Examines the politics of budgeting and the relationship of budgeting to other decision processes. Develops competencies in core budgetary processes, such as preparation of Budget Letters or Budget Change Proposals. Also covers budget implementation as a fiscal and programmatic control system. Introduction to audit function. Develops competence to analyze a Comprehensive Annual Financial Report.

PUB 215. A Complex Public Policy Case. 2 Units.
Examines capacity for effective action beyond single jurisdictions or agencies. Also examines devices for joint actions across sectors, including inter-sectoral and inter-governmental, such as specific area plans, joint powers, financing districts or purposeful networks. Explicit attention is given to allocation of risks as a public policy tool, often seen in financing of large projects and programs.

PUB 219. Directed Research. 1-3 Units.
Students complete comprehensive individual research projects under the supervision of a faculty member resulting in a public policy relevant analysis. Topic, unit credit and graded or pass/fail must be approved in advance. (P/F or graded) (may be repeated).

PUB 221. Economic Concepts and Tools. 3 Units.
Develops competence in economic concepts and tools. Draws upon microeconomics. Key concepts include efficiency, equity, opportunity cost, marginal analysis and roles of incentives, competition, and market failure. Provides opportunity for students to discuss the effectiveness of various government programs and regulation or de-regulation strategies from economic points of view.

PUB 222. Finance for Public Policies. 3 Units.
Develops competence to use concepts and tools of public finance common to professionals in public policy arena. Analysis of the efficiency, equity and incentives of various taxes. Other topics include revenue estimation, public goods, benefit-cost analysis, and financial structures for public investments. Relationships to budget processes and decisions analyzed. Attention also paid to institutions critical to public finance.

PUB 231. Public Policy Statistics. 3 Units.
This course introduces students to descriptive and inferential statistics often used in public policy analyses. The course aims to provide students with a solid foundation for analyzing data, conveying analyses in convincing and appropriate ways. Topics covered include: measures of central tendency and dispersion, probability and probability distributions, random variables, hypothesis testing and confidence intervals, statistical power, correlation, simple regression, and an introduction to multivariate regression.

PUB 232. Public Policy Research Tools. 3 Units.
Emphasizes importance of accurate and relevant information to sustain and advance effective public policy in support of constitutional democracy. Develops skills for use of qualitative and quantitative research methods, including construction and analyses of purposive samples, interviews and surveys. Includes techniques useful in providing information from the different perspectives introduced in PUB 211. Develops competencies in program or policy evaluation. Attention is given to unobtrusive measures found in common public policy processes and to effective presentation of results to different audiences.

PUB 233. Public Manager Analytics. 3 Units.
Introduces students to use of analytics in managing organizations and implementation of programs or policies. Includes analyses of cases within organizations and at program and policy levels. Develops competencies in identifying relevant analytics, collection of data, and making information usable for decision makers seeking to improve performance in achieving policy goals.

PUB 241. Leaders, Organization Behavior. 3 Units.
Analysis and development of knowledge and skills relevant to strategic leadership of public organizations, including responsibilities for organization structures and their internal and external relationships; human, financial, and property resources; systems, including digital revolution dynamics; and political and symbolic roles. Explicit attention to professionally expert leadership for success in contexts characterized by conflict, complexity, and uncertainty.

PUB 242. Systemic Change. 3 Units.
Analysis and developing skills relevant to purposeful, enduring change of public policies and public institutions. Roles and strategies of policy entrepreneurs are analyzed. Actions which strengthen policies are contrasted with those which weaken them. Explicit attention not only to public executives, but also to strategies of elected officials, stakeholders, and advocacy groups. Identifying and understanding the articulation of a variety of tools, such as strategic communications or facilitated processes, as well as more specific policy tools, such as changed laws, new decision arenas, or changed financial incentives.

PUB 251. Values, Roles and Skills. 3 Units.
Importance and interrelationships in Public Administration of (1) values that are fundamental to public action and often contested as political actors interpret core values differently, (2) roles which are defined by cultures and institutions (e.g., department head, staff analyst, city manager) and (3) professional knowledge and skills which support ethical behaviors which are also effective in achieving desired public purposes. Emphasis is on constitutionally grounded search for liberty, human dignity and reasonableness under a rule of law.

PUB 252. Strategic Public Management. 4 Units.
Integration of learning from courses taken through (1) self-assessment and (2) class analyses of relevant cases of both successful and unsuccessful public professionals. A goal is targeted development of knowledge and competencies for sustained, long-term effectiveness.

PUB 261. Water Policy Choices. 3 Units.
Identifies and analyses possible changes in water policy in the next 2-5 years and beyond. Develops capacity to understand, analyze and recommend actions with sufficient understanding of relevant values, past history, competitive forces, and adaptive human behaviors to reasonably assess implementation feasibility and to identify probable longer term effects of public policy choices.
PUB 262. Health Policy Choices. 3 Units. Identifies and analyses possible changes in health policy in the next 2–5 years and beyond. Develops capacity to understand, analyze and recommend actions with sufficient understanding of relevant values, past history, competitive forces, and adaptive human behaviors to reasonably assess implementation feasibility and to identify probable longer-term effects of public policy choices.

PUB 263. Sustainability Policy Choices. 3 Units. Identifies and analyses possible changes in sustainability policy in the next 2–5 years and beyond. Develops capacity to understand, analyze and recommend actions with sufficient understanding of relevant values, past history, competitive forces, and adaptive human behaviors to reasonably assess implementation feasibility and to identify probable longer-term effects of public policy choices. Includes attention to energy, water and land uses, but also to sustainability agendas of businesses and other actors.

PUB 264. Public Reform Policy Choices. 3 Units. Identifies and analyses possible changes in public institutions and practices in the next 2–5 years and beyond. Develops capacity to understand, analyze and recommend actions with sufficient understanding of relevant values, past history, competitive forces, and adaptive human behaviors to reasonably assess implementation feasibility and to identify probable longer-term effects of public policy choices.

PUB 265. Emergency Services Policy. 3 Units. Encompasses emergency preparedness planning, response and recovery, including natural disasters, terrorism, intelligence/information available and analyses, and counterterrorism. Attention to linkages among national, state, local and nongovernmental arenas of decision and capabilities.

PUB 266. Advanced Quantitative Tools. 3 Units. Multivariate regression and modeling tools, including application to cases in water and health care. (prerequisites: PUB 231 and PUB 232).

PUB 267. Economics of Place, Industry. 3 Units. Develop competence in economic concepts, theories and tools relevant to analyses of sub-national places, such as a region or watershed, including valuation of ecosystem services, and to industries, such as health care or agriculture. (prerequisites: PUB 221 and PUB 222).

PUB 268. Judicial Administration. 3 Units. Identifies and analyses possible changes in judicial institutions and practices in the next 2–10 years. Develops capacity to analyze relevant values, past history, competitive forces, and adaptive human behaviors to identify promising strategies. Emphasizes skills and tools of leadership and implementation required for success in this complex context.

PUB 271. Public Policy Special Topics. 3 Units. Topic selected by faculty member to fit curricular needs, current issues and student interest. Illustrative topics include “U.S. Social Movements and Public Policy,” “Spatial and Data Analysis,” or “The Economics of Race in the United States.”

PUB 281. Public Finance Policy Choices. 3 Units. Identifies and analyses current practices and possible changes in instruments and practices of public finance in the next 2–5 years and beyond. Develops competencies in use of selected instruments. The primary focus is supporting executive roles: capacity to understand, analyze and recommend actions with sufficient understanding of relevant values, past history, competitive forces, and adaptive human behaviors to reasonably assess implementation feasibility and to identify probable longer-term effects of public finance practices.

PUB 282. Public Data Policy Choices. 3 Units. Identifies and analyses current practices and possible changes in public policies and practices concerning collection, use and access to public data in the next 2–5 years and beyond. Includes analytics of public data. Develops capacity to understand, analyze and recommend actions with sufficient understanding of relevant values, past history, competitive forces, and adaptive human behaviors to reasonably assess implementation feasibility and to identify probable longer-term effects of public policy choices regarding collection and uses of public data.

PUB 283. Public Policy Decision Tools. 3 Units. Identifies and analyses uses of decision tools in making and implementing public policies. Develops competencies in use of selected tools. Additionally considers possible changes in use of such decision tools in the next 2–5 years and beyond. The tools considered include those which emphasize formal calculation, structured uses of science and other expertise, and procedural rules under which decisions are made. The primary focus is supporting executive roles: capacity to understand, analyze and recommend actions with sufficient understanding of relevant values, past history, competitive forces, and adaptive human behaviors to reasonably assess implementation feasibility and to identify probable longer-term effects of use of various decision tools.

PUB 284. State Government. 3 Units. Focuses on the distinctive attributes and roles of state governments. Emphasizes understanding of the institutions and operations of state government with particular attention to effectiveness and to the roles of public professionals, including civil service careerists, public-interest advocates, political leaders and contracted service providers. Develops capacity to understand, analyze and recommend actions with sufficient understanding of relevant values, past history, competitive forces, and adaptive human behaviors to reasonably assess implementation feasibility and to identify probable longer-term effects of public policy choices.

PUB 285. Local Government. 3 Units. Focused on the distinctive attributes and roles of local governments, including counties, cities, special districts and the variety of local public authorities. Emphasizes understanding of the institutions and operations of local governments with particular attention to effectiveness and to the roles of public professionals. Develops capacity to understand, analyze and recommend actions with sufficient understanding of relevant values, past history, competitive forces, and adaptive human behaviors to reasonably assess implementation feasibility and to identify probable longer-term effects of public policy choices.

PUB 286. Intersectoral Leadership. 3 Units. Effective action on many important public issues requires joint or complementary action by all sectors of society and also support or acceptance by citizens. This course builds further on concepts and skills developed in core courses to deepen competencies to analyze and to act effectively in leadership roles in the most complex, uncertain and conflicted contexts. Central to success is mastering various aspects of governance, including the use of formal authority and competencies of governments, roles of nonprofits and businesses, and important public policies and cultural factors which shape possible actions. Attention to effective framing of issues, reaching public judgments and mobilizing resources.
PUB 290. Foundations of Social Policy. 3 Units.
This course explores the normative and historical development of the state's role in providing for the social welfare of its citizens. In doing so, it examines current and past federal and state polices relating to aging, education, health, housing, and welfare, among others. In addition, some social welfare policies in other countries are investigated. Skills developed: Analytic writing, subject area knowledge, analysis of quantitative and qualitative data, and the presentation of descriptive data.

PUB 291. Externship. 3 Units.
Students will perform on-site public policy work as externs under the supervision of field placement supervisors in government agencies, non-profit entities or for-profit firms engaged in public policy processes. Placements in for-profit firms can include consulting firms focused on public policy processes and firms directly providing services with largely public funding, such as in health care. The Field Placement Director and/or the Associate Director of the Public Policy Program will help students find an appropriate placement, and must approve each student's registration. Placements in for-profit firms must also receive approval of the Director of the Public Policy Program. (P/F).

PUB 292. Demography. 3 Units.
Demography is the science of population characteristics, including population size, distribution, processes, and structure. This course examines the causes and consequences of population change—e.g., changes in fertility, mortality, migration, technology, lifestyle, and culture. These changes have implications for a number of social issues: hunger, the spread of illness and disease, household formation, the labor force, marriage and divorce, care for the elderly, poverty, and urbanization, among many others. The course also examines the concepts, measures, and methods used to document and project population changes over time. Skills developed: Analytic writing, subject area knowledge, analysis of quantitative and qualitative data, and the presentation of descriptive data.

PUB 293. Housing Policy. 3 Units.
This course is an exploration of housing (and by extension, community) policy in the United States. We begin by setting the context for U.S. housing by examining the social and spatial segregation of housing in the United States. We next move on to an examination of federal, state, and local housing policies affecting the production, pricing (i.e., affordability), and consumption of housing. Topics include the structure of housing and related financial markets; the economic and social bases for government intervention in these markets; and the different tools available to policymakers, including subsidies (both direct and through the tax system), regulation of financial institutions (e.g., the Community Reinvestment Act), government sponsored enterprises, zoning, and the regulation of lands and rents. Skills developed: Analytic writing, subject area knowledge, analysis of quantitative and qualitative data, and the presentation of descriptive data.

PUB 294. Poverty and Welfare Policy. 3 Units.
In this course, students will examine the nature and extent of poverty in the United States as well as become familiar with the policies and programs used to combat it. We will examine the controversies and politics surrounding theories of why people are poor, the measurement of poverty, its effects on individuals' and families' welfare, and the different programs used (and proposed) to provide relief. The course will primarily focus on income-assistance programs (e.g., Temporary Assistance for Needy Families and the Earned Income Tax Credit), but attention will also be given to anti-poverty programs more commonly associated with education, health, housing, and nutrition. Skills developed: Analytic writing, subject area knowledge, analysis of quantitative and qualitative data, and the presentation of descriptive data.

Tuition Payment Policy
Financial Responsibility Acceptance
All students are required to complete the Financial Responsibility acceptance for each term they register for classes. If you did not accept Financial Responsibility during the registration process for the current term, please follow these instructions to meet the requirement:

- Login to insidePacific (https://insidepacific.pacific.edu/cp/home/displaylogin)
- Click on the Academic tab
- Click the Begin Registration link
- Click on the Student Financial Acceptance link
- Select the current term in the drop down beginning with Law (e.g., Law Spring 2017)
- Click on the "Submit" button
- Read statement and click on the "I Accept" button

In the event you do not accept Financial Responsibility at the time of registration, or prior to classes beginning, your account will be placed on Financial Hold (FH), which will prohibit you from registering for courses and/or changing your registration.

Electronic acceptance of Financial Responsibility is the University's preferred method to meet this requirement, but in the unseen event of technical difficulties you can find a hard copy of the form here Financial Responsibility Acceptance Form (pdf) (http://www.mcgeorge.edu/Documents/Forms/FinancialResponsibilityAcceptanceForm.pdf). If you are unable to complete the form through insidePacific, please sign and date the hard copy and submit it to the Business Office for our records.

Payment Deadline
Enrollment constitutes a financial contract between you and the University of the Pacific McGeorge School of Law. All tuition and fees for each semester are due no later than five (5) business days following the end of the Add/Drop period for that semester. Summer school tuition and fees are due on the first day of the session in which you are enrolled. If at any point during the semester you incur additional charges after the add/drop period, you must pay the balance due within five (5) business days. Failure to pay your balance or make satisfactory payment arrangement with the University of the Pacific McGeorge School of Law before the balance becomes past due will result in a late fee assessment. For more information on Housing related charges and penalties associated with failure to pay please see the section below on Housing Payment Deadlines.

Your rights to University of the Pacific, McGeorge School of Law services and benefits are contingent upon your making all payments in a timely manner as stated above. If payment of amounts owed to University of the Pacific McGeorge School of Law are not made when due, we have the right to administratively withdraw you, direct you not to attend class, withhold your grades, transcripts, diplomas, scholastic certificates, and not release your exams. Failure to maintain good financial standing with University of the Pacific McGeorge School of Law, as evidenced by failure to make timely payments of any and all balances due, will also result in denied participation in any deferred payment plans and/or some forms of institutional financial aid. In addition, delinquent balances due the University of the Pacific, McGeorge School of Law are reported to the credit agencies, which may impact your credit rating. Further, failure to maintain good financial standing may be reported to any state bar to which you may seek admission.

If you withdraw or are dismissed during the year, all outstanding obligations become due and payable on the termination date. No adjustment of tuition will be made for late enrollment, absences from class, leaves of absence for a portion of a semester, or when a student has been dismissed or suspended by official action of the University of the Pacific, McGeorge School of Law.

Housing Charges and Payment Deadlines
Rent is due on the firsts of each month. If your rent is not paid by the fifth of the month you will be assessed a late fee of $20 by the Housing Office. Your account will be assessed an additional late fee for unpaid rent and other miscellaneous housing charges (garage fee, utilities, etc.) based on the schedule in the Late Fee section below. Please refer to your rental agreement for disciplinary actions for failure to pay.

Students with Loans
The Business Office will verify with the Financial Aid Office any amount of loan money you will be receiving, if any. Upon verification of the loan proceeds, tuition that will be covered by the funds will be deferred until receipt of the funds. Loan funds will be applied directly to the tuition account for all courses for the term. Payment, for any portion not covered by loan disbursement, is due by the date specified in the Payment Deadline.

Method of Payment
You may pay by check, cash, money order or credit card (Visa, MasterCard, Discover or American Express). If paying by credit card or e-check you may process your payment on InsidePacific. Payments in the form of cash, check and credit card can also be made in person at the Business Office and payments in the form of check may be mailed to the Business Office.

If you pay your tuition & fees by credit card and then, additional financial aid is received, we are bound by our merchant agreement to refund the credit to your credit card.

Wire Transfers for International Students
International Students may elect to wire their tuition payment. Please contact the Business Office for banking information. Please be aware that there are fees associated with international wires and we strongly encourage you to contact both the issuing bank and the receiving bank to determine what fees will be assessed as they vary. The university is not responsible for any fees deducted, and expects that student account are paid in full by the due date.

Late Fees
Fee Amount: 2.5% late fee not to exceed $100

Fall/Spring Fee Assessment Frequency: Tuition & fees are to be paid in full no later than five business days following the final day of the add/drop period for the current semester, or students must have an Installment Plan on file by the same date (five days after the add/drop period). Late fees will be assessed on the sixth business day after the final day of the add/drop period and every billing cycle thereafter on the entire balance due. Please see the billing cycle located in the Billing section. If there is a charge on your account that you are disputing you will need to notify the Business Office in writing (SAC_busoffice@pacific.edu) immediately to prevent a late fee from being assessed on the disputed amount.

Additional charges incurred by students following the final day of the add/drop period for the current semester are to be paid in full within five business days after the charges are posted to the student account. If a student has an Installment Plan on file in the Business Office they can add additional charges to the plan by completing an Installment Plan Amendment form within the five business days. Late fees will be assessed based on the following schedules:

Refunds

If payments are made by credit/debit card (including, but not limited to tuition, fees and housing charges) and additional financial aid is received after those payments were made, we are bound by our merchant agreement to refund credit card payments before issuing a refund to you. Any credit/debit card payments made within 180 days of the date the credit occurred on the account are returned first, and any additional credit is refunded to the student second.

Any credit balance on your account, which is not impacted by our credit card merchant agreement or as a result of a IFT or wire payment for personal expenses (please see the University policy regarding overpayments above), will be returned to you in the form of a Refund Disbursement; At the beginning of each semester, the McGeorge Business office will begin to process student refunds after the Add/Drop period has ended (typically the second week of the semester). During the rest of the semester the Business Office refund disbursement schedule will follow the University of the Pacific’s check runs which occur on Monday and Wednesday nights. Refunds generated as a result of net financial aid will be mailed to your mailing address on file with the Office of the Registrar. Please allow a delay of up to five (5) business days to receive Refund Disbursements via a paper check. Students that elect to receive Direct Deposit of these disbursements will receive the money typically within three (3) business days. All charges must be paid in full before refunds can be issued from any form of financial aid.

Title IV Authorization to Release Non-Institutional Charges (and prior year charges) Form

In order to use financial aid to cover any charges not directly related to taking a class such as health insurance, bookstore charges, library fines, student locker fees, parking fees, card replacement fees, or returned check fees, the McGeorge Business office must have a completed Title IV Authorization Form (pdf) prior to funding being disbursed.

Course Add or Drop

Students can add/drop a course during the first week of each semester without penalty, or on the first day of each Summer session. Please note that additional tuition charges may result from add/drop actions.

Return of Title IV Funds

Federal law requires that financial aid recipients who withdraw have their Federal funds adjusted based on the Federal Return of Title IV Formula. Return of Title IV funds is a federally mandated policy that applies only to students who receive federal financial aid and who withdraw, drop out, are dismissed, or take a Leave of Absence prior to completing 60% of a semester. The Return of Title IV funds policy does not apply to students who reduce their units but remain enrolled. Return of Title IV Funds will be used to determine how much aid, if any, must be returned to Title IV loan programs. The Title IV funds considered in the policy are the Federal Unsubsidized Stafford Loan and the Federal Plus Loan. The policy does not apply to the Federal Work-Study Program.

The Return of Title IV funds calculation identifies two types of federal aid, earned and unearned. The earned aid is based on a percentage calculated by dividing the number of days the student completed by the number of days in the payment period. A student who remains enrolled beyond the 60% point earns all disbursed (received) and disbursable aid. Disbursable aid includes aid received and the aid that could have been (but was not) disbursed as of the withdrawal date. If earned aid exceeds disbursed aid, a post-withdrawal disbursement may be made. McGeorge School of Law will first credit post-withdrawal disbursements toward unpaid tuition and fees.

McGeorge School of Law will offer the student any part of the post-withdrawal disbursement not credited to school charges. Within 45 days of determination that the student withdrew the student will be provided with a written notification of any post-withdrawal funds that are available to the student. No post-withdrawal disbursement will be made if the student does not respond within 14 days of the notification date.

Unearned aid is any disbursed aid that exceeds the amount of Title IV aid the student earned. The unearned aid amount is to be returned to the lender, a responsibility shared by the University of the McGeorge School of Law and the student. McGeorge School of Law is responsible for returning the lesser of the total amount of unearned aid or McGeorge School of Law charges multiplied by the percentage of unearned aid. McGeorge School of Law charges used in the Return of Title IV Funds calculation include the amount that had been assessed to the student’s account before the student’s withdrawal. The student is responsible for the difference between the total unearned amount and McGeorge School of Law share.

McGeorge School of Law must return its share of unearned funds no later than 45 days after it determines that the student withdrew. Students must repay their share according to the terms and conditions stated in their promissory note(s). Funds returned to lenders by McGeorge School of Law will be distributed first to the Federal Unsubsidized Stafford Loan and the Federal Plus Loan.

Yellow Ribbon Program FAQ

What is the Yellow Ribbon Program?
The Yellow Ribbon GI Education Enhancement Program (Yellow Ribbon Program) is a provision of the Post-9/11 Veterans Educational Assistance Act of 2008. This program allows institutions of higher learning (degree granting institutions) in the United States to voluntarily enter into an agreement with VA to fund tuition expenses that exceed the highest public in-state undergraduate tuition rate. The institution can contribute up to 50% of those expenses and VA will match the same amount at the institution.

What VA and community resources are available to assist me?
There are many resources available to help you:

- Community Resources (http://www.mcgeorge.edu/Students/Student_Life/Financial_Aid_Office/Prospective_StudentsApplicantsAdmitted_Students/Types_of_Aid/Yellow_Ribbon_Program_FAQ/Community_Resources.htm)
- V.A. Chapters (http://www.pacific.edu/About-Pacific/AdministrationOffices/Office-of-the-Registrar/Veteran-Services/VA-Chapters.html)
- V.A. Forms (http://www.pacific.edu/About-Pacific/AdministrationOffices/Office-of-the-Registrar/Veteran-Services/VA-Forms.html)
- Called Back to Active Duty (http://www.pacific.edu/About-Pacific/AdministrationOffices/Office-of-the-Registrar/Veteran-Services/Called-back-to-Active-Duty.html)
- Order Military Transcripts (https://jst.doded.mil/smart/signIn.do)

Who is Eligible for the Yellow Ribbon Program?
Only Veterans entitled to the maximum benefit rate of 100 percent, as determined by the service requirements, or their designated transferees may receive Yellow Ribbon benefits from Pacific and the VA. Active duty Service members and their spouses are not eligible for this program.
The general eligibility requirements for the Yellow Ribbon Program include:

- You were honorably discharged from active duty for a service-connected disability and you served 30 continuous days after Sept. 10, 2001.
- You are a dependent eligible for Transfer of Entitlement under the Post-9/11 GI Bill based on the service eligibility criteria listed above.

We encourage all Veterans to review the eligibility criteria directly from the VA’s website at http://www.benefits.va.gov/gibill/yellow_ribbon.asp.

What are McGeorge’s Yellow Ribbon Benefits?

Only McGeorge students are eligible to participate in the Yellow Ribbon Program at McGeorge.

- This award will be offered to a maximum of 60 eligible McGeorge veterans.
- They will receive up to 100% of the unmet established charges (tuition & student fees) per academic year.
- The actual amount will vary based on number of units taken and charged for each semester. Under the Yellow Ribbon Program the Department of Veterans Affairs will then match McGeorge’s contributions made to the eligible veterans each academic year that the University participates in the program.

How will McGeorge select Yellow Ribbon Program benefit recipients?

Students will be selected for the Yellow Ribbon Program award based on a first come first serve basis, determined by the date and time your application is received by the V.A. Representative (Registrar’s Office). Once the maximum awards available (60) have been offered, no additional Yellow Ribbon Program awards will be offered by McGeorge.

How Do I Apply for Yellow Ribbon Benefits under Post-9/11 GI Bill?

The Department of Veterans Affairs is now processing applications for the Post-9/11 GI Bill. Interested students should complete and submit the application form online at http://www.gibill.va.gov.

To complete an application on-line, you will need McGeorge’s VA Code number: 3-1-8912-05.

You will receive written notification explaining the VA’s decision regarding your eligibility for the Post-9/11 GI Bill and the Yellow Ribbon program. If you are eligible, you will receive a Certificate of Eligibility (COE) that specifies you are “potentially eligible for the Yellow Ribbon Program.” The final funding decision, however, will be made by Pacific.

For questions regarding COE, contact the veteran's administration at 1.888.GIBILL1 (1.888.442.4551) to speak with an Education Case Manager.

Once you receive your COE and are deemed potentially eligible for the Yellow Ribbon Program, complete Pacific’s Yellow Ribbon Application (pdf) (http://www.mcgeorge.edu/Documents/yellowRibbonApplication.pdf) and submit your COE along with your application to Pacific’s Office of the Registrar. Upon receipt of your COE, the Office of the Registrar will verify your eligibility to participate in the Yellow Ribbon Program.

How will I know if I have received the Yellow Ribbon Program benefit from McGeorge?

If you receive a Yellow Ribbon award, it will be coordinated into your financial aid award in accordance with all federal, state and institutional rules and regulations. You will be notified of the award by e-mail, from Pacific’s certifying official.

How is this benefit applied to my student account?

The VA match of your Yellow Ribbon award will be issued directly to the law school on your behalf after your enrollment certification is processed by the VA.

Will my Yellow Ribbon Award be renewed?

McGeorge will offer you a Yellow Ribbon Program award as long as the following apply:

- McGeorge continues to participate in the Yellow Ribbon Program (The University of the Pacific’s participation in the Yellow Ribbon program is voluntary. McGeorge may choose to change the contribution amount offered in future years or may choose not to participate in the program altogether.)
- You remain in good academic standing as defined in the McGeorge Academic Catalog and Student Handbook
- You have not been disciplined under the McGeorge Code of Student Responsibility
- You have remaining entitlement as defined by the VA

For Additional Information

Visit www.gibill.va.gov (http://www.gibill.va.gov) for additional information on the Yellow Ribbon Program or other benefits.

SBA Student Leader Peer Mentor Program
The senior students on campus want to help you. To help facilitate that process, the McGeorge SBA has created a senior student to incoming student mentorship program that focuses on helping incoming students integrate with the McGeorge Community. The senior students that volunteer for the program have been involved with various student clubs, student organizations on campus, and student driven McGeorge events.

How do I sign up?
To request a mentor, please email SBA President, Nicole Vera at n_vera@u.pacific.edu and include a small bio: where you are from, where you went to undergrad and what you studied, things you like to do, favorite food, legal interests, hobbies, what you would like from your mentor, that sort of thing. The information you provide will help the SBA match you with a mentor who will be a good fit.

Questions?
Email Nicole Vera, SBA President
n_vera@u.pacific.edu

Pro Bono, Public Service & Volunteer Opportunities
McGeorge provides robust opportunities for students for community engagement in the Oak Park neighborhood surrounding the campus and in the Sacramento region. Students come to McGeorge to make a difference, and these activities help students achieve personal and professional fulfillment by helping others. Students gain professional experience, enhance their resumes, and build relationships with other professionals. Many of these activities make professional education more interesting, relevant and meaningful. Opportunities fall into three related groupings: pro bono, public service/public interest, and volunteer opportunities. The Capital Center for Law and Policy recognizes McGeorge students with a Capital Commendation at different levels depending on the number of hours provided.

PROBONO comes from “Pro Bono Publico” which means for the public good. JD students use their growing legal skills under the supervision of a practicing attorney to help provide free legal services on campus at one-day clinics sponsored by McGeorge and on behalf of a variety of governmental, nonprofit, educational and civil programs. Students do not receive compensation or academic credit for doing pro bono work. These programs are often coordinated by the McGeorge Legal Clinics, the Career Development Office (CDO), or by faculty and student organizations, and many involve invaluable cross-cultural experience. Participating students are very enthusiastic about these service learning opportunities helping persons of limited means.

Public Service
Public Service activities include participation in externships in government and nonprofit organizations as part of our Capital Center for Law and Policy and in our legal clinics (both are for academic credit) as well as a variety of opportunities to learn about careers in public service/public interest through various CDO programs.

Volunteerism
Volunteer Opportunities include community-based activities that support the Oak Park neighborhood or the broader community but do not involve the use of legal skills. Students in the MSL/MPP/MPA degree programs are encouraged to participate in these community events.

Law Student State Bar Registration
The rules of the Committee of Bar Examiners of The State Bar of California require each law student who plans to take the California Bar Examination to register with the Committee and pay the prescribed fee after beginning the study of law and before any other application is transmitted to the Committee.

Forms for registration are available from the State Bar of California’s website at www.calbar.ca.gov (http://www.calbar.ca.gov).

California and other states have standards of character and fitness to practice which must be satisfied by candidates applying for admission to the Bar. The Rules Regulating Admission to Practice Law in California of the Committee of Bar Examiners of The State Bar of California provides:

Every applicant shall be of good moral character. The term “good moral character” includes qualities of honesty, fairness, candor, trustworthiness, observance of fiduciary responsibility, respect for and obedience to the laws of the state and the nation, and respect for the rights of others and for the judicial process. The applicant has the burden of establishing that he or she is of good moral character. For students who expect to practice in California, an Application for Determination of Moral Character is available from the State Bar of California’s website at www.calbar.ca.gov (http://www.calbar.ca.gov). Most students file the application with the Committee of Bar Examiners during their senior years, preferably more than six months before sitting for the California Bar Examination. Students with a record of involvement in disciplinary or criminal matters may want to file the application at an earlier date.

Students who plan to practice law in jurisdictions other than California should check that state’s requirements for student registration and admission to the bar. Further information regarding admission requirements and bar examiner addresses is available in the Office of Student Affairs.

University of the Pacific Law Review
University of the Pacific Law Review is edited and managed by a board of student editors assisted by a faculty advisor.

The Law Review publishes articles by law professors, practitioners, and jurists, as well as student authored comments and case notes. A special issue, “Greensheets Review of Selected California Legislation,” is published annually with student-authored reviews of recently enacted California legislation.

Law Review members are selected based on a writing competition from those who have completed the first-year Full-Time Division or second-year Part-Time Division program with academic standing which places them in the upper range of their class.
Advocacy Honors Board
Students who excel in the school’s Global Lawyering Skills II course are eligible to serve on the Moot Court Honors Board. Under the administration of faculty advisors, the Board administers the first-year intra-school moot court competition. Members assist in preparing problems, instructing small groups, and evaluating written and oral student performances.

Competition Teams
Advanced students are eligible for membership on the Moot Court, Mock Trial, and Negotiation/ADR competition team which represent McGeorge School of Law in interscholastic competitions at regional, national, and international levels. Selection for any of the competitions is made by the faculty director of the respective programs.

McGeorge Moot Court teams regularly participate in the following competitions:
- ABA National Appellate Advocacy Competition
- Davis Asylum Moot Court
- Jessup International Moot Court
- New York Bar National Moot Court Competition
- Niagara International Moot Court
- Pace International Criminal Court Competition
- Pepperdine Entertainment Moot Court
- San Diego Criminal Procedure Moot Court
- Saul Lefkowitz Trademark Moot Court
- Thomas Tang Moot Court
- Traynor Moot Court

McGeorge Mock Trial teams regularly participate in the following competitions:
- AAJ Student Competition
- Buffalo-Niagara Mock Trial Competition
- John Marshall/ABA Criminal Justice Section
- National Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers Competition
- National Civil Trial Competition
- National Ethics Trial Competition (hosted by McGeorge School of Law)
- National Trial Competition
- San Diego Defense Lawyers
- William Daniel National Competition

Alumni
Every graduate from McGeorge School of Law becomes a lifetime member of the McGeorge School of Law Alumni Association upon earning their J.D., LL.M., M.S.L., or J.S.D. McGeorge School of Law alumni have distinguished themselves as leaders in legal practice, on the judicial bench in local, state and federal trial and appellate arenas, in all levels of government service, and in the business and nonprofit communities. Alumni are found in each of the 50 United States, as well as in 52 countries around the globe.

The McGeorge School of Law Alumni Association is governed by a 36-member Board of Directors representing the law school’s more than 13,000 alumni. The Board provides ample opportunities for leadership and engagement with the law school and fellow alumni. Among Board priorities are building Alumni Chapters around the country, engaging more alumni in volunteer opportunities, charitably supporting the law school, and actively assisting new graduates with their post-law-school job search. The Board also supports the Alumni Endowed Scholarship Fund, two annual MCLE events (at nominal cost to alumni), and several events during the academic year connecting current students with alumni.

Student Learning Outcomes
(As Approved by the Faculty, February 18, 2011)

Learning outcomes are the lawyering skills that students are expected to obtain through the completing of a legal education. The curriculum at McGeorge School of Law has been designed to prepare students with the key skills and competencies needed to demonstrate these learning outcomes in the legal profession.

Consistent with ABA Standards, upon completion of a J.D. degree, graduates of the McGeorge School of Law will demonstrate mastery of the following student learning outcomes at the level needed for admission to the bar and effective and ethical participation in the legal profession as an entry level attorney.

Each student will:
1. Demonstrate the ability to identify and understand key concepts in substantive law, legal theory, and procedure in domestic and international law context;
2. Apply knowledge and critical thinking skills to perform competent legal analysis, reasoning, and problem solving;
3. Demonstrate the ability to conduct domestic and international legal research;
4. Demonstrate communication skills, including effective listening and critical reading, writing in objective and persuasive styles, and oral advocacy and other oral communications;
5. Collaborate effectively with others in a variety of legal settings and context;
6. Apply knowledge of professional ethics to representation of clients, performance of duties as an officer of the courts, and to the resolution of ethical issues;
7. Demonstrate professional judgment and professionalism through conduct consistent with the legal profession’s values and standards.

Student Organizations
Practicing your legal skills doesn’t always happen in class or during an internship. Chartered Student Organizations play an integral role in the campus environment and educational process, and the many events hosted annually directly enhance academic and career preparation, cultural awareness, public service, leadership skills and networking opportunities. So get involved—with your peers, with the campus community, and with the Sacramento legal community. You will meet people with similar interests, organize meaningful activities, and have plenty of opportunities to network.

SCHOLASTIC REGULATIONS

Mission Statement
(Approved by the Faculty on February 15, 2006)

The mission of the University of the Pacific, McGeorge School of Law, is to:

Provide a student-centered education that prepares its graduates for productive, successful, and ethical careers in the legal profession, and for leadership in building a diverse society committed to global justice; and contribute to the improvement of the law through engaged scholarship and other forms of public service.

Non-discrimination Statement

McGeorge, in compliance with Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972 (45 CFR 86), and Sections 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, does not discriminate in the administration of any of its educational programs, admissions, scholarships, loans, or other activities or programs on the basis of race, gender, sexual orientation or preference, national or ethnic origin, color, disability, marital status, age, or religious belief.

Inquiries regarding compliance with these statutes and regulations may be directed to the Office of the Dean, 3200 5th Ave., Sacramento, CA, 95817, or to the U.S. Department of Education, Office for Civil Rights, in San Francisco or Washington, D.C.

Statement of Diversity & Inclusion
(Adopted by the Minority Affairs Committee, 2008-2009)

McGeorge strives to enhance the personal and professional experiences of our community by promoting:

• Respect and Awareness of individuals and diverse communities and groups;
• Education inclusive of a variety of different perspectives, experiences, intellectual interests, and worldviews;
• A Commitment to increasing diversity in the legal profession; and
• The value of Collective Action to challenge prejudice, stereotyping, and harassment.

The McGeorge commitment to diversity is an essential part of providing a high quality education that prepares graduates for the administration of justice in a multicultural world and for professional participation in a legal community that represents the interests of a diverse society.

Code of Student Responsibility

The Code of Student Responsibility ("CoSR") governs student behavior at all times from the time of submitting an application for admission until graduation, expulsion, voluntary withdrawal, or academic disqualification not followed by reinstatement. The CoSR is divided into four parts – Cannons of Ethics, Disciplinary Rules, Organizational Rules, and Procedural Rules. The CoSR may be found online at mcgeorge.edu/Policies_and_Handbooks.htm and printed copies are available from the Office of Student Affairs.

Student Learning Outcomes
(Approved by Faculty on February 18, 2011)

Learning outcomes are the lawyering skills that students are expected to obtain through the completion of a legal education. Consistent with ABA Standards, upon completion of a J.D. degree, graduates of the McGeorge School of Law will demonstrate mastery of the following student learning outcomes at the level needed for admission to the bar and effective and ethical participation in the legal profession as an entry level attorney. 7. Demonstrate professional judgment and professionalism through conduct consistent with the legal profession’s values and standards.

Disabled Students Services

McGeorge makes every reasonable effort to accommodate, on a case-by-case basis, students with physical, medical, or learning disabilities. Appropriate services and modifications are worked out on a case-by-case basis. Our campus facilities are accessible to students with mobility impairments, and, in compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act, we do not discriminate in the administration of our educational programs, admissions, scholarships, loans, or other activities or programs based on disability.

For additional information, please review the online Policy Handbook for Students with Disabilities (available at mcgeorge.edu/Disabled_Student_Services.htm) and contact the Office of Student Affairs at sacstudentaffairs@pacific.edu or 916.739.7089 with any questions or to submit your request for accommodations.

Student Records Policy

McGeorge maintains records for each student that include name, address, telephone, student identification, social security number, material submitted for the admission application, general information on academic status at McGeorge, previous school data, courses previously taken or being taken, credits, and grades. Applicants for financial aid have a file established in the Financial Aid Office to maintain financial aid records. For more detail regarding Student Records, please refer to the website (mcgeorge.edu/Student_Records_Policy.htm). Inquiries about the school’s compliance with student records and privacy rights regarding educational records under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) of 1974, may be directed to the Office of the Registrar (sacregistrar@pacific.edu) or the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Office, U.S. Department of Education, Washington D.C.

Tuition & Fees
McGeorge publishes tuition payment and policy information in the Academic Catalog and on the web at mcgeorge.edu/Future_Students/JD_Programs/Costs_and_Aid/Tuition_and_Fees.htm and mcgeorge.edu/Tuition_Payment_Policy.htm. Please consult those resources for more information, and contact the Business Office at sac_busoffice@pacific.edu or 916.739.7054 with any questions.

Sexual Assault & Response Policy
McGeorge is committed to the personal safety of its students and other members of its campus community and maintaining a safe and respectful environment free from sexual misconduct. Safety education and prevention information is distributed to students during Orientation and available throughout the year through Public Safety. A detailed explanation of the support and services available to assault victims may be found in the full Sexual Assault and Response Policy Statement which is located online at mcgeorge.edu/Sexual_Assault_and_Response_Policy_Statement.htm. To report student, staff or faculty sexual misconduct, a victim or witness may contact Elisa Levy, Assistant Dean, Administration and Strategic Planning and Title IX Campus Representative at 916.739.7343, in addition to any Campus Security Authority, such as Public Safety or Dean McGuire.

Prohibited Harassment Policies & Procedures
McGeorge is committed to providing an environment free of sexual harassment and harassment because of race, religious creed, color, national origin, ancestry, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, age, or any other basis made unlawful by federal, state, or local law, ordinance, or regulation. This policy applies to all persons attending or involved in the operations of McGeorge. Prohibited harassment in any form, including verbal, physical, and visual conduct, threats, demands, and retaliation in unlawful and will not be tolerated. A publication, “Prohibited Harassment,” provides further information about policies and procedures. It is available from the Office of the Registrar.

Substance Abuse Policies & Procedures
Students are expected to comply with federal, state, and local laws governing the possession, distribution, use, and consumption of alcohol and illicit drugs on the campus and as part of school activities both on and off the campus. A publication, “Substance Abuse Policies and Procedures,” provides further information about policies, procedures, and available drug and alcohol abuse education programs, as required by Section 1213 of the Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended. The publication is available online at mcgeorge.edu/Substance_Abuse_Policies_and_Procedures.htm.

Annual Security and Fire Safety Report
In compliance with the Jeanne Cleary Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, or Cleary Act, the Pacific Sacramento Campus Public Safety Department is responsible for providing the Annual Security and Fire Safety Report. This report contains the three most recent calendar years of crime statistics for the campus. It includes crimes that occurred on campus, in campus housing, and on non-campus property and public property that is adjacent to campus. Also included in this report is fire safety information for on-campus housing. Hard copies of this report are available at the Public Safety Office, Human Resources Office, and Admissions Office, and an electronic version is available online at mcgeorge.edu/Documents/Policies/annualSecurityReport.pdf.

Accreditation & Memberships
McGeorge is a member of the Association of American Law Schools (AALS). It is fully accredited by the American Bar Association (ABA) and by the Committee of Bar Examiners of the State of California. It is also registered by the Regents of the University of the State of New York and approved for participation in veteran’s educational benefits programs. McGeorge has been awarded a Chapter of the Order of the Coif, the highest academic recognition possible for a program in legal education. All documents relating to the accreditation of McGeorge are on file in the Office of the Dean, 3200 5th Avenue, Sacramento, CA 95817, and all inquiries regarding accreditation should be directed to that office.

Additional Policies & Procedures
Please visit the website at mcgeorge.edu/Policies_and_Handbooks.htm for a consolidated listing of McGeorge’s policies and procedures, including the University Animal Policy, Unclassified Student Policies, Smoking Policy, Graduate Grading and Advancement Rules, Library Gift Policy, Privacy Policy, and others not discussed in this publication.

Student Compliant Procedure (ABA Standard 510)
Any student at the law school who wishes to bring a formal complaint to the administration regarding a significant problem that directly implicates the school’s program of legal education and its compliance with the ABA Standards, should do the following:

1. Submit the complaint in writing to the Assistant Dean for Student Affairs. The complaint may be sent via email, U.S. Mail, facsimile, or in person to the Office of the Assistant Dean for Student Affairs. There is also a web-based form located online at mcgeorge.edu/Student_Complaint_Process.htm.

2. The complaint should describe in detail the behavior, program, process, or other matter that is at issue, and should explain how the matter directly implicates the school’s program of legal education and its compliance with a specific, identified ABA Standard(s).

3. The complaint must contain the complaining student’s name, his/her student ID#, his/her official law school email address, and his/her current mailing address.

When an administrator receives a student complaint that complies with the foregoing requirements, the following procedures shall be followed:

1. The Assistant Dean for Student Affairs will acknowledge the complaint within three business days of receipt. Acknowledgement may be made by email, U.S. Mail, or by personal delivery, at the option of the Assistant Dean.

2. Within 10 business days of acknowledgment of the complaint, the Assistant Dean for Student Affairs, or the Assistant Dean’s designee, shall respond to the substance of the complaint, either in writing or in person, and shall indicate what steps are being taken by the law school to address the complaint. If further investigation is needed, the complaining student shall, upon conclusion of the investigation, be provided with substantive response to the complaint within 10 business days after completion of the investigation.

3. Any appeal regarding a decision on a complaint shall be brought before the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs. Any appeal from the decision of the Associate Dean shall be brought before the Dean of the Law School. The decision of the Dean will be final. Any appeal must be brought within 10 business days from the date of the response by the Assistant Dean or the Associate Dean.

4. A copy of the complaint and a summary of the process and resolution of the complaint shall be kept in the office of the Assistant Dean for Student Affairs for a period of eight years from the date of final resolution of the complaint.

Other Sources of Information

Students must familiarize themselves with school policies, procedures, and regulations contained on the website and in other publications which include:

- Code of Student Responsibility
- Financial Aid Handbook
- Grading and Advancement Rules, Regulations, and Procedures
- Policy Handbook for Applicants and Students with Disabilities
- Parking Regulations and Campus Security Student Handbook
- Prohibited Harassment: Policies and Procedures
- Student Handbook
- Substance Abuse Policies and Procedures

Copies of these publications are also available from the Student Affairs, Registrar and Financial Aid offices and on the school website.

Compliance with Federal Regulations

Non-discrimination policy: McGeorge School of Law, in compliance with Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972 (45 CFR 86), and Sections 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, does not discriminate in the administration of any of its educational programs, admissions, scholarships, loans, or other activities or programs on the basis of race, gender, sexual orientation or preference, national or ethnic origin, color, disability, marital status, age, or religious belief.

Inquiries regarding compliance with these statutes and regulations may be directed to the Office of the Dean, 3200 Fifth Avenue, Sacramento, California 95817, (916) 739-7151, or to the U.S. Department of Education, Office for Civil Rights, in San Francisco or Washington, D.C. Student records: Inquiries about the School’s compliance with student access and privacy rights regarding educational records, under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, may be directed to the Office of the Dean or to the Student and Family Educational Rights and Privacy office, U.S. Department of Education, Washington, D.C.

Compliance with the Clery Act

In compliance with the Clery Act, formerly known as the Campus Security Act of 1990, the School of Law is responsible for disclosing to the students, faculty, and staff all crimes that have been committed on campus, non-campus buildings or property, and public property. That information is available in the Annual Security Report, in addition to the Daily Crime Log, which is available for review in the Director of Public Safety’s Office. The School of Law also gives timely warnings to the students, faculty, and staff to aid in the prevention of crime. Each year the Public Safety Department gathers and compiles crime information received from the Sacramento Police Department and Campus Security Authorities to assist in providing crime statistics to the U.S. Department of Education.

Examinations and Grading

Written examinations are given at the end of each semester in most courses. The predominant form of examination calls for an essay response. Essay examination papers are generally returned to students after grades are recorded. A student who fails to take examinations in a course will receive a grade of “F” for the course unless the absence was excused in advance by the Assistant Dean for Student Affairs or Associate Dean for Academic Affairs. Absences are approved in cases of:

1. Bona fide illness
2. Emergency
3. Personal Tragedy
4. Religious observance
5. Approved accommodation under ADA

If excused, the student will be permitted to take the examination at a later time. Further information regarding examinations may be found in the Grading and Advancement Committee Rules, Regulations and Procedures.

The grading system of the School of Law is as follows:

Certain courses have been designated as “honors/pass/low pass/no credit/fail.” These are designated in the course descriptions section of this catalogue as “P/F.” The grade “Honors” is awarded for work performed at a superior level. The grade “Pass” is given to work performed at an acceptable level; “Low Pass” is given for work at the C or C- level; “No Credit” is given for work performed at the D+ or D level; failing work receives a grade of “F.”

Advancement Standards

The faculty has established standards for advancement in good standing or continuance on academic probation to each year of legal training.

The minimum cumulative standard for advancement to the next year of law school not on probation is a 2.33 GPA. A student with a GPA between 2.18 and 2.32 at the end of any academic year other than the final year may continue enrollment on probation but in good standing under the following conditions:

1. All probationers must meet with a designated administrator for counseling and program approval, which the administrator will finalize in consultation with the chairperson of the Grading and Advancement Committee. The approved program of study must include repetition of any required courses in which the student received a grade below a C+, unless, for clear and convincing reasons, the designated administrator determines that repetition is not necessary for successful completion of probation. Probationers are required to participate in follow-up counseling sessions as deemed appropriate, as a condition of continued enrollment.

2. Unless grounds for exception are found by the designated administrator and the chairperson of the Grading and Advancement Committee, programs of study for 2D probationers will not exceed 13 units, 10 of which will be in required courses. For 2E and 3E probationers, a minimum of 6 units (for 2Es) and 5.5 units (for 3Es) will be in required courses.

3. Successful completion of probation requires achievement of a cumulative GPA of 2.33 at the end of the spring semester after placement on probation or the scheduled graduation date, whichever is sooner.

4. No student may repeat probationary status. A student who has previously been on probation and thereafter has a cumulative GPA below 2.33 at the end of an academic year is not eligible to continue.

Directed Study Program

Any student whose cumulative GPA, at the end of the first academic year, falls within the bottom 50% of their division shall be placed in the Directed Study Program. Once placed in the Directed Study Program, a student will remain subject to its requirements.

The requirements of the Directed Study Program are as follows:

Scholastic regulations detailing advancement and probationary standards are set forth in the Grading and Advancement Committee Rules. Copies of the Rules are available at the Office of Student Affairs. The faculty reserves the right to change requirements for grading, advancement, or graduation at any time without prior notice.

Attendance and Class Preparation

Regular class attendance is required. Students are expected to be prepared for all class meetings. Failure to meet minimum standards may result in a lower grade or exclusion from taking the final examination.

Involuntary Withdrawal

McGeorge School of Law may require a leave upon specified terms, terminate a student’s enrollment, or decline to award a degree if the Administration determines it is in the best interests of the law school or that a student is not qualified for admission to the legal profession because of factors other than academic standing. Determinations about academic standing are made in accordance with the Grading and Advancement Committee Rules, Regulations, and Procedures. Determinations about the occurrence of conduct described in the Code of Student Responsibility are made in accordance with the procedures of that Code.

Voluntary Withdrawal and Leave of Absence

To withdraw from enrollment at McGeorge School of Law after registration closes for an academic semester or summer term, students must complete the Withdrawal Request Form provided by the Registrar’s Office prior to the last class of the term. To request a leave of absence from the School of Law, students must (1) meet with the Assistant Dean of Student Affairs for counseling and approval and (2) if they have loans - complete exit counseling with Financial Aid. Failure to complete withdrawal procedures may result in a "W/F" notation on a student’s official transcript.

Change of Courses

Students may not add or drop courses after the Add/Drop Deadline or after the first day of a Summer Session without approval by the Office of Student Affairs.

Inter-Division Courses and Change of Divisions

After their first-year, Full-Time Division students may enroll in Part-Time Division required classes, as space permits. Second-year Part-Time Division students who for extraordinary reasons must take a required course during the day must obtain permission from the Assistant Dean for Student Affairs. Third-year and fourth-year Part-Time Division students may enroll in required daytime courses, as space permits. Students may take elective courses offered during either day or evening hours. A preference is given to Evening Division students for limited enrollment classes scheduled during evening hours.

Courses at Other Law Schools

Courses at Another ABA-Accredited Law School

Students planning to attend summer programs at other ABA-accredited law schools and have credit accepted toward their J.D. degrees should complete a Rule 902 application and submit it to Office of Student Affairs for approval.

The School will accept up to a total of six semester hours of credit earned with passing grades in elective courses (not Externships) at other law schools. Grades do not count in computing a student’s McGeorge School of Law cumulative grade point average. Only courses, not grades, are recorded on a student’s McGeorge School of Law transcript.

Visiting at Another Law School

A student whose compelling personal circumstances necessitate leaving the School’s geographic area may be approved to study for one or two semesters at another ABA-accredited law school and apply the credits earned at that school toward his or her J.D. degree. A student must petition the Faculty Committee on Grading and Advancement and demonstrate that compelling personal circumstances warrant approval.

Courses to be taken at another law school must be approved in advance by the Assistant Dean for Student Affairs and only up to 32 semester hours earned at a passing grade level will be credited toward the J.D. degree. Grades do not count in computing a student’s McGeorge School of Law cumulative grade point average. Only courses, not grades, are recorded on a student’s McGeorge School of Law transcript. Students who take courses at other law schools must furnish the Registrar with an official transcript of that work promptly upon its completion.

Student Records

In accordance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, the School of Law has established procedures to ensure that students have access to their records, that those records are accurate, and that the privacy rights of the students are protected.

Copies of these procedures are available upon request from the Office of Student Affairs. Directory information may be released by the School of Law unless a student requests in writing that this information be kept confidential. Directory information includes a student’s name, address, telephone number, e-mail address, date and place of birth, dates of attendance, degrees, honors and scholarships received, participation in officially-recognized activities, and previous schools attended.

Students who wish to have such information kept confidential must file a written request with the Registrar prior to the last day to register for the Fall Semester.

Inquiries regarding compliance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act may be directed to the Dean, McGeorge School of Law, University of the Pacific, or to the Federal FERPA Office of the United States Department of Education.

Academic Honors and Awards

The Order of the Coif

The Order of the Coif is a national law school honor society founded to encourage legal scholarship and advance the ethical standards of the legal profession. Award of a chapter of The Order of the Coif signifies that a school of law maintains scholarship and academic standards of high quality. Each year, faculty members of the McGeorge School of Law chapter of The Order of the Coif elect students to membership from among those seniors whose academic records place them in the top 10% of the combined Full-Time and Part-Time Division graduating class and who has completed at least 75% of his or her law studies in graded courses.

The Order of Barristers

The Order of Barristers is a national honorary organization whose purpose is the encouragement of excellence in oral and written advocacy. Ten graduating seniors may be elected to the Order each year on the basis of performance in a combination of intramural and interscholastic moot court and trial advocacy competitions.

Traynor Society

Students whose grades during any two academic years have qualified them for the Dean's Honor List are awarded membership in the Traynor Society. The Society is named in honor of the late Honorable Roger J. Traynor, former Chief Justice of the California Supreme Court.

Dean's Honor List

The Dean’s Honor List includes those students who achieved a grade point average of 3.10 or higher for the previous academic year ending with the Spring Semester of 3.10 or higher.

Graduation Honors

Students who complete the requirements for graduation with a cumulative grade point average of 3.10 and higher will be graduated "With Distinction." Students with a grade point average of 3.50 and higher are graduated "With Great Distinction."

Valedictorian Awards

Valedictorian medals are presented at Commencement each year to the graduating students with the highest grade point averages in the Full-Time and Part-Time Divisions. The Late Honorable Sherrill Halbert, Senior Judge of the United States District Court, Eastern District of California, provided for these medals.

McGeorge School of Law Outstanding Scholastic Achievement Award

Upon election by the Faculty Committee on Honors and Awards, an award is presented yearly to a student in each division of the senior class in recognition of overall scholastic accomplishment.

McGeorge School of Law Outstanding Graduating Senior Awards

Nominations for this award are based on criteria which include scholastic standing, honors, and activities. Awards are made to the graduating senior from the Full-Time and the Part-Time Divisions selected by the Committee on Honors and Awards as exemplifying the highest academic and individual achievements during his or her law school career.

McGeorge School of Law Outstanding Student Achievement Awards

Outstanding Student Achievement awards are made to the senior student from the Part-Time and the Full-Time Division who has provided student leadership through student government offices and projects; McGeorge School of Law Review, or leadership in other student activities, outside activities, or work experience combined with law school study.

Outstanding Student Service Award

An award is made to the graduating senior from the Full-Time or Part-Time Division who has given most significant service to the McGeorge community in his or her senior year.

Outstanding Student Achievement in Trial Advocacy

Four awards for Outstanding Achievement in Trial Advocacy are provided from the Emil Gumpert Award for Excellence in the Teaching of Trial Advocacy presented to the University of the Pacific, McGeorge School of Law by the American College of Trial Lawyers. Two additional awards are provided by the Consumer Attorneys of Sacramento.
